LAIRD . . . endorses 'Safeguard.'

U.S. ABM NEGOTIABLE

. . . Laird Calls It 'Building Block Toward Peace'

Washington (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said Thursday the modified Sentinel antiballistic missile defense could be put on the bargaining table in any negotiations with the Soviet Union on strategic arms limitations.

But the defense chief said he did not believe the Soviets could be expected to agree to a freeze on their antimissile work if the United States scrapped Sentinel plans in advance of the talks.

Argue For Sentinel

The comments came as Laird and other top Pentagon officials opened the Nixon administration's arguments in favor of the multibillion-dollar Sentinel system.

Laird told an afternoon session of the Senate Armed Services Committee that he believes the Sentinel program "in no way interferes" with talks now being proposed with the Soviets, who he said are proceeding to build huge new missiles and deploy Polaris-type submarines.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., asked Laird whether the "Safeguard" Sentinel plan would be negotiable with the Soviets. "Yes it is," the defense chief responded.

Laird said he was unable to report on the prospects of arms limitations discussions but he said the matter is being handled at levels below President Nixon.

'Peace' Ingredient

Time and again, Laird referred to the U.S. antimissile plan as a "building block toward peace" and said it should give the Soviets added incentive to seek an arms agreement.

Laird argued that the Sentinel is needed to protect the American nuclear missile and bomber forces in the face of the Soviet buildup.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, an ABM opponent, demanded to know why antimissile plans coud not be deferred two or three years in view of the fact the United States already is throwing $2.6 billion each month into the war in Vietnam.

Can't Afford Delay

Laird's deputy, David R. Packard, said that because of Soviet missile improvements and the emerging Red Chinese nuclear threat, "we decided we could not afford to delay."

Laird acknowledged the Sentinel system cannot protect the United States against a determined Soviet missile assault but he said it would provide a general umbrella against a light Red Chinese attack, or against accidental missile launches.

He told the panel the present Sentinel program provides no basis for a future "thickening" which would involve the costly addition of far more missile interceptors.

Criticizes Capital Site

At one point Young criticized the decision to place antimissiles around only one city, Washington, D.C., and asked whether that was because Washington "doesn't have any senator or congressman to make an outcry against this."

Laird said Washington is the national command center but he said its defense would have to be approved by Congress.

Laird said that while Sentinel would provide light protection against nuclear missiles, its chief value would be preserving the American strike-back capability and thus deterring any enemy from starting a war in the first place.

Mid-1970s Threat

At the morning session Laird said huge new Soviet missiles and Polaris-type submarines could threaten America's nuclear force in the mid-1970s.

As recently as last December, Laird said, the United States received "firm and solid information" the Soviets are proceeding with deployment of a 20-to-25-megaton missile, in the SS9, which he said can destroy U.S. Minuteman launch sites.

His deputy secretary, Packard, said large numbers of SS9s in the mid-1970s would give the Soviets "the capability of being able to destroy essentially all our Minutemen in hardened silos if they chose to do so."

Laird argued that the only way the 1,000-missile Minuteman force can be protected is through the "active defense" of Sentinel.

Lincoln, Omaha Gain Exemption

. . . From Proposed Ballot Change

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Government and Military Affairs Committee Thursday exempted Lincoln and Omaha from a comprehensive new city and school elections law, then sent the bill to the floor for debate.

The measure, LB542, which originally would have had the effect of reducing the length of terms of elected officials in both cities, won 6-0 committee approval.

Also removed from provisions of the act were the Lincoln and Omaha School Districts and Class I and Class VI rural districts.

(See Pages 14 to 19.)

Package Accepted

A package of amendments softening most of the mandatory requirements of the bill was presented to the committee by a group of city, county and school representatives and accepted without change.

LB542 would now move city and school board officials to four-year terms, provide for election on even-numbered years and authorize local government to hold future elections coincident with the state primary election.

Originally, the bill, sponsored by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, would have required local elections to be held at the statewide primary.

'Problems'

Deputy Secretary of State Allen Beermann, who presented the package of proposed amendments, told the committee that the bill would have faced "constitutional problems" had it continued to propose a reduction in the current terms of Lincoln and Omaha city officials.

Those terms could be extended, but probably not reduced, Beermann said.

In 1971, he suggested, the Legislature could consider the possibility of bringing Omaha and Lincoln into the new election law system after the plan has had an opportunity to work in other communities.

Both cities will continue to hold elections in odd-numbered years under their home rule charters.

Held for later action was LB1294, a comprehensive 57-page measure amending election laws.

Two Amendments

Carpenter directed Beermann to present two major amendments for the committee's consideration. They would:

—permit a registered independent voter to choose the ballot of either political party at the primary election.

—remove the presidential primary proviso which permits a presidential prospect tabbed by the secretary of state from removing his name from Nebraska's ballot through a disclaimer of candidacy.

His first proposal would be "a good way to destroy the two-party system," Sen. Robert Clark of Sidney cautioned.

"What's wrong with that?" Carpenter replied.

General Approval

Giving general approval to the election law changes written into LB1294 were Lancaster County Election Commissioner Dean Petersen and his Douglas County counterpart, Monte Taylor.

Among major changes proposed in the bill:

—registered voters who fail to vote in two succeeding general elections would automatically lose their registration status.

—candidates for the U.S. Senate or the presidency would be required to file expense statements with the state.

—provisions for absentee and disabled voters would be generally liberalized.

FLOOD DAMAGE . . . to Highway 81 south of Columbus is checked by workman.

Cold Temps Postpone Record Flooding

Cold temperatures slowed snowmelt Thursday and postponed predicted record flooding in east and central Nebraska.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the snowmelt wouldn't present serious problems until Saturday or later, but officials said ice jams were posing an immediate threat.

The Weather Bureau said crests on both the Big Blue and tributaries would be lower than had been forecast.

Death Reported

Floodwaters, however, forced evacuation of some homes and closed several roads in the Big Blue basin and one death was blamed on the flooding Thursday.

A 7-year-old York boy, John Jones, drowned when a road gave way and plunged him into the Blue River near Waco.

Columbus continued to be the crucial area Thursday. Threatened by lowland inundation from the Loup River, the Platte River and Lost Creek, more residents were warned to evacuate.

About 200 persons had been evacuated Wednesday from the Stires and Wagner's Lake areas in southwestern Columbus.

Red Cross officials reported Thursday afternoon that all of the evacuees had found private emergency shelter.

Manor Stranded

Water from Lost Creek and runoff from fields stranded Columbus Manor, a senior citizens home in Columbus.

The area between the Loup and Platte Rivers, south and west of town, was covered with water, according to Robert Prentiss of the State Civil Defense headquarters.

"There was considerably more flooding Thursday," a departmental official reported after an aerial survey.

U.S. 81 and 30 near Columbus were closed and a section of U.S. 81 was reportedly washed away by the Barnum Creek.

Ice Jams

As the ice jams near Columbus break up, Fremont and Schuyler will be threatened, State Civil Defense officials said.

Water was running over Highway 15 near Schuyler, the Colfax County Sheriff's office reported Thursday, but the town was not in danger.

Fremont reported some lowland flooding in the Big Island area, three miles south of town.

Flooding in the Beatrice area was limited to Chautauqua Park, which was reported to be under water.

Turkey Creek near Wilber was slowly receding Thursday afternoon, according to the Saline County Sheriff. The creek was 4.6 feet above flood stage early Thursday, a record stage for the past 10 years.

Seward, Crete and Dorchester reported water levels above the flood stage. The Big Blue was expected to crest at the towns Friday through Sunday night. Highway 15, south of Dorchester, was closed.

On the Little Blue River, flooding was reported near Fairbury and DeWeese.

More rain and snow increased the flood potential in the Missouri River Basin, the Weather Bureau said. However, reservoirs on the Missouri River were expected to prevent flooding on the reaches above Omaha.

A number of county roads and highways were reported closed, including Highway 35 east of Wakefield and Highway 20 east of Plainview.

Snow Blocks Some Roads

Blowing and drifting snow received Wednesday night was blocking some northeastern Nebraska roads Thursday in addition to some already closed by floodwaters.

U.S. 20 was blocked by drifting snow from the junction north of Laurel and east to Waterbury, according to an official from the State Department of Roads.

Snow was also blocking U.S. 15 in some spots between Laurel to Hartington.

Laurel in northeastern Nebraska received 5 inches of new snow as 1.23 inches of precipitation. Wakefield reported 4 inches of snow as 1.97 inches of precipitation, Pilger had two inches of snow as .94 of an inch of precipitation and Neligh reported 1.5 inches of snow as .76 of an inch of precipitation.

Remaining snow from Westerville to Broken Bow to Ansley and also in the St. Paul area was in drifts up to three feet.

York Boy, 7, Drowns When Road Caves In

A 7-year-old York boy drowned Thursday near Waco when a road, undermined by the flooding Blue River, caved in, plunging him into the icy river.

Rescue workers said the boy, John Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones of rural York, was apparently pulled by a swift current into an ice-covered sandpit, where water depths reach 100 feet.

Ron Kennett, a member of the Lincoln Fire Department scuba team, said young Jones and his 11-year-old brother Donald were walking along a road about three miles south of Waco when the accident occurred.

Kennett said the four-man scuba team was unsuccessful in recovering the boy's body. Kennett said rescue attempts were hampered by the fast current, the thick ice covering and poor visibility in the muddy water.

The body was believed to be in the sandpit, Kennett said, because the divers had entered the water from several angles and each time the current swept them into the pit.

Kennett said he estimated the current was moving at "four or five knots."

School Levy Boost Likely

. . . 6-MILL HIKE SEEN

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Tentative budget estimates indicate that the tax levy for Lincoln schools will have to be increased about six mills, Associate Supt. Dr. Robert Den Hartog revealed Thursday night.

The estimated mill levy increase was based on an approximate $1.8 million boost in the general fund budget, Den Hartog told the Lincoln School Board-Lincoln Education Association negotiating teams.

The school board's team presented two more salary proposals for classroom teachers for the 1969-70 school year at the fourth negotiating session Thursday. The proposals, which were not released to the press, were not discussed during the short meeting.

The new salary proposals were made after a review of the estimated increases in all parts of the general fund budget.

7% Pay Raise

Den Hartog's $1.8 million increase estimate included an average pay raise of 7 for all teachers, administrators, food service workers, clerical employes and operation and maintenance personnel.

No decisions, however, have been reached on any salary increases for next year nor on any other parts of the 1969-70 school budget.

Den Hartog said he figured an increase of six mills in the tax levy by estimating a slghtly higher valuation than last year and no new sources of income. He added that, except for the slim possibility of more state aid, he did not foresee any other sources of school funds increasing.

Levy Dropped

Last year the mill leavy dropped to 58.56 for 1968-69 from 79.66 in 1967-68 with the addition of $2.9 million in state aid and increased valuations placed on residential property. The mill levy had jumped to 79.66 from 52.99 in 1966-67; it included a levy for tax refunds stemming from a Supreme Court order. The 1965-66 levy was 42.92.

According to the associate superintendent's calculations, $844,000 of the $1.8 million increase would be used for salaries of insructional personnel, including principals and consultants.

He contended that it will take about $1 million over last year's $18,499,222 general fund budget to pay for such things as inflation on regular school district purchases, opening the new Goodrich Junior High, absorbing an estimated 700 new students, making some improvements in the educational program and offering salary boosts to all employes other than instructional staff.

In addition to previously announced rate increases for utilities which will affect the school system, Den Hartog predicted a 3% increase in costs for supplies and equipment due to inflation.

Fixed charges relating to Social Security, workmen's compensation, tax collections, state pension plan and health insurance contributions will include about a 33% increase or $18,000 in the cost of property insurance.

Rates on insurance premiums for school property are rising rapidly across the nation due to student riots, demonstrations and predicted trouble, it was noted.

$50,000 Behind

The food service program "will not continue to carry itself," according to Den Hartog, who said food prices either will have to be increased or the board will have to budget about $30,000 to help support the program. Due to a shortage of commodities, the program is about $50,000 behind this time last year, he said.

Planning on lower tuition and higher enrollments, the business affairs chief estimated a 20% increase for the 1970 summer school budget funded by taxes.

A student population of 31,640 in 1969-70 — 700 more than the current year — would require an additional 28 teachers. New administrative staff also would be required for Goodrich Junior High. Requests for other personnel not included in Den Hartog's estimate totaled about 140 persons, he reported.

New York Times News Summary

Nixon Flying West To Review Vietnam Policy

(C) New York Times News Service

Washington — President Nixon plans to fly to California Friday, taking along his top foreign policy advisers for a review of Vietnam policy. Although the discussions are not intended to yield specific decisions or changes in tactics, there are indications that the administration feels the pressure to confront difficult issues posed by the war.

Lodge Detects 'Some Progress'

Paris — The chief U.S. negotiator, Henry Cabot Lodge, said there had been "some progress" at the ninth plenary meeting of the Vietnam peace talks. The four-hour session was marked by an exchange of escalation charges, but afterwards, the impression prevailed that contacts at the margin of the discussion may have brought the peace parley closer to hard bargaining. (More on Page 5.)

Grand Jury Indicts 16

Chicago — Eight persons who organized protest demonstrations during the Democratic convention in Chicago last August were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to incite a riot. The grand jury also indicted eight Chicago policemen on charges of assaulting demonstrators. (More on Page 13.)

Soviet Words Aimed At China

Moscow — Soviet radio broadcasts cataloguing Soviet nuclear power have told the Chinese people not to believe the assertions of the "Mao Tse-tung clique" that the Soviet Union is afraid of China's might. The broadcasts reiterated the Soviet claim to Damansky Island in the Ussuri River and called for negotiations between the two governments.

Laird Cites Soviet Missiles

Washington — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee and warned that a missile defense was necessary to prevent the Soviet Union from achieving a first-strike capability against the United States. Laird predicted the Soviet Union might acquire such a capability by 1974 if the United States did not move to protect its missile bases. (More on Page 1.)

Weather Study 'Most Intensive'

Washington — The Environmental Science Service Administration has announced a project described as "the most intensive scientific investigation ever made over a large ocean area." The prime objective of the $18.2-million research project is to understand the interactions between the sea and air which is the primary weather-shaping force.

27,000-Mile Rail Merger Favored

Washington — The merger of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway with the Norfolk & Western Railway has been recommended to the Interstate Commerce Commission. Edward L. Boisseree, the hearing examiner, said the proposed consolidation "will not be inconsistent with the public interest." If the merger is finalized, the system would form a rail complex of more than 27,000 miles of track.

Seabed Treaty Worries Pentagon

Washington — There is considerable apprehension among defense officials over the Soviet Union's proposed draft treaty forbiding military uses of the ocean floor. The concern arises from the Soviet clause prohibiting inauguration of "military bases, structures, installations and other objects of a military nature," which Pentagon officials fear could include underwater listening devices, thus affecting American defenses.

Reds Kill 18 Americans In Attack On Firebase

World News

Saigon (AP) — Enemy forces heavily bombarded an American artillery base northwest of Saigon Friday with mortars and rocket-propelled grenades, then followed up with an infantry assault using tear gas, military spokesman said.

Field reports said 18 Americans were killed and 12 wounded in the night-long assault on the U.S. Air Cavalry Division's Firebase White, about 45 miles northwest of Saigon. It is one of a string of patrol bases blocking infiltration routes to the capital.

Only three enemy were known dead. Their bodies were found along the base's barbed wire perimeter.

Exposed Pits Hit

The enemy opened up first with mortar and rocket-grenade barrages. Most of the American casualties were inflicted by mortars that ripped into exposed artillery pits from which the GIs were firing back at the enemy positions.

Then the enemy charged the base, manned by about 250 Americans, and lobbed tear gas grenades over the barbed wire. The enemy soldiers were thrown back after heavy fighting, having failed to penetrate the base camp, military spokesmen said.

The attack occurred near a sprawling rubber plantation where 10,000 allied troops are trying to block a potential enemy thrust toward the capital.

It was one of about 40 overnight shelling attacks reported by U.S. and South Vietnamese headquarters Friday.

351 Killed Last Week

In Saigon, it was announced that the U.S. death toll from the enemy's offensive last week reached 351 and at that rate the total killed in action in Vietnam will exceed that of the Korean war by the end of March.

U.S. Command figures Thursday brought the total American battle deaths in eight years of war to 33,063. Korean War dead totaled 33,629. It was the third bloodiest foreign war, being surpassed only by World Wars I and II.

The U.S. toll last week was 15 more than in the previous week and raised the number of Americans killed since the enemy offensive began Feb. 23 to 1,140. The U.S. Command said the enemy total for the three weeks was 15,099 dead with 4,137 killed last week.

325 Vietnamese Killed

South Vietnamese headquarters said 325 soldiers were killed last week, up from 259 the week before.

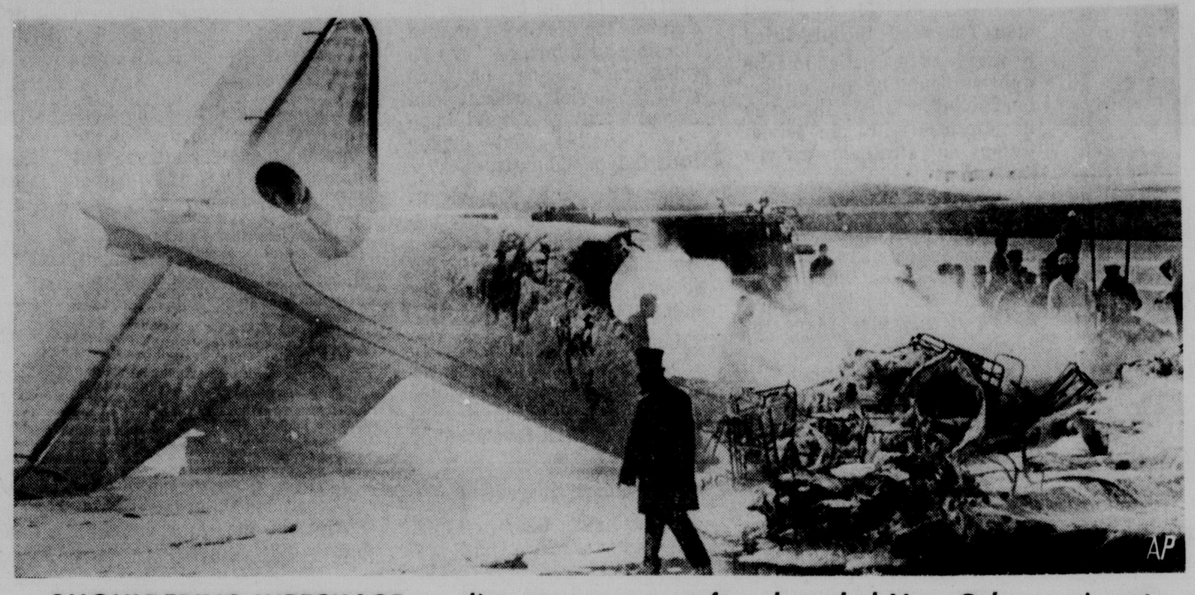

The latest figures showed 10,112 Americans have been killed in combat since the United States and North Vietnam began exploratory peace talks in Paris 10 months ago.

U.S. B52 bombers struck seven times at suspected enemy troop concentrations in Tay Ninh province along the Cambodian border. There has been speculation that the Communist command might try to mount a new drive to seize the provincial capital.

Most of Thursday's battle action centered around a huge rubber plantation 40 miles northwest of Saigon where 10,000 U.S. troops are trying to block an enemy thrust toward the capital.

A rifle platoon of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, landing from a helicopter on a reconnaissance mission, was pinned down by enemy fire for nearly three hours in midafternoon. Armored vehicles crashed through to the rescue.

The 30 riflemen lost one killed and two wounded. They reported killing at least seven enemy soldiers.

SMOULDERING WRECKAGE . . . lies on runway at fog-shrouded New Orleans airport.

Sportsmen's Plane Crashes In Fog; 16 Killed

New Orleans (AP) — A chartered plane carrying 24 Tennessee sportsmen to a hunting expedition in British Honduras crashed in heavy fog and burned at New Orleans International Airport Thursday, killing 16 men.

"It was a terrible thing watching that plane burn and knowing your friends were in there," said one of the 11 survivors who escaped through emergency exits or by knocking out windows.

The DC3 crashed several hundred yards from the airport terminal after losing radio contact while making a normal instrument approach. The crash ripped apart the fuselage and scattered a wing, propellers and other parts over a 1,000-yard area.

Several of the survivors said it was almost 30 minutes after the crash before anyone from the terminal reached the wreckage.

"It was so foggy you couldn't see anything," said Winford Smith, another survivor. "I thought we must be in the middle of an abandoned airport somewhere. It seemed like forever on that runway waiting for someone to get to us."

Paine Okayed

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Thursday unanimously confirmed Thomas O. Paine as administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and John H. Shaffer as head of the Federal Aviation Administration.

Anguillans Parade To Protest Occupation

Anguilla (AP) — Hundreds of gaily dressed Anguillans paraded Thursday to protest British occupation of their tiny Caribbean island.

In a van, from the back of a motorbike, acting president Ronald Webster waved the orange, white and aqua flag of what he claims is an independent republic.

British troops, sweltering in berets and long-sleeves green fatigues, seemed fascinated by the holiday-flavored procession. Some waved to the marchers.

But British authorities made clear in a meeting with Webster that they recognize neither him nor Anguillan independence and will impose law and order even if it means several years of occupation.

Ted Urges U.N. Seat For Peking

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., taking a position drastically opposed to that of President Nixon, called Thursday for Communist China's admission to the United Nations and for early discussions between Peking and Washington on resuming diplomatic relations.

Kennedy proposed giving the Chinese Communists the seats now held by the Taiwan regime of Chiang Kai-shek in the U.N. General Assembly and Security Council, with Nationalist China retaining some representation.

The United States should take the initiative because it is unrealistic for Peking to do so in the light of past relations, Kennedy told the National Committee on United States-China Relations in New York City.

"It is our obligation," he said. "We are the great and powerful nation, and we should not condition our approach on any favorable action or change of attitude by Peking."

"For us to begin a policy of peace would be a credit to our history and our place in the world today," he added. "To continue our present path will lead only to further hostility and the real possibility of mutual destruction."

Fighters Sent To Help Pueblo Weren't In Time

Washington (AP) — U.S. fighter planes, armed with cannon, were sent to attack North Korean MIGs and gunboats seizing the Pueblo but could not arrive before darkness covered the area, House investigators were told Thursday.

Lt. Gen. Seth J. McKee, commander of the U.S. 5th Air Force at the time the Pueblo was captured Jan. 23, 1968, said he ordered planes from Okinawa as soon as possible after receiving messages that the spy ship was under attack.

"I personally made the decision to send aircraft, issued appropriate orders to effect such action and 5th Air Force fighters were launched," McKee told a House armed services subcommittee investigating the seizure.

Events of Day

Recapping the events of that day, McKee told the committee his headquarters first learned of the Pueblo's trouble by telephone at approximately 1:55 p.m. local time and then got the ship's position and first call for help in messages at 1:57 p.m. and 2:07 p.m., respectively.

Shortly thereafter, he said, he ordered his commander in Okinawa, where his only operationally ready combat units were located, to prepare all available planes for launch as soon as possible.

One hour and 23 minutes after his order, at 4:11 p.m., he said the first two F105s, armed with 20mm cannon, left Okinawa for Osan, South Korea, where they would refuel and head for the Pueblo, about 25 to 30 minutes away.

"At that time, it was becoming highly doubtful that planes would get there in time before darkness." McKee said.

At 4:45 p.m., McKee said, he learned from U.S. military headquarters in the Pacific the ship was believed to be in Wonsan Harbor in North Korea.

"It was somewhere around this time that I came to the unhappy conclusion that we would arrive too late to be of assistance to the Pueblo" said McKee, now assistant vice chief of staff for the Air Force.

He said his planes arrived at Osan at 5:35 p.m. with sunset at Wonsan to come at 5:41 p.m. and complete darkness at 5:53 p.m.

"I directed the planes not be relaunched."

"Obviously later arriving aircraft were also too late to be of assistance," he said.

McKee said he would have dispatched the planes from Osan, had it been light and had the Pueblo been outside the three-mile territorial limit.

Under the measure, prospective brides and grooms must not only tell how old they are but must furnish proof to marriage license clerks.

31 Million Acres Out Of Production

Washington (AP) — The Agriculture Department's goal of 37 million acres taken from production of livestock feed grains this year appeared within reach this week as farmers signed up to divert 31.2 million acres under the government's 1969 control program.

Nebraska News

The signup period began Feb. 3 and ends Friday. The 31.2 million acres already signed into the federal program were as of last Saturday, a week before the deadline.

Of the total diversions signed up thus far, 13.2 million acres were required as part of the federal program which provides price supports and other benefits to participating farmers.

In addition, farmers have agreed to take from production of corn, sorghum grain and barley another 18 million acres which will be eligible for federal compensatory payments.

The total livestock feed grains base is about 133 million acres. Applications through last Saturday covered 67.7 million acres on 1.2 million farms, the department said.

Officials said the feed grains base acreage — roughly what farmers normally plant — already signed included: corn 45 million acres; sorghum grain 14.6 million; and barley 8.1 million.

The barley signup has been lagging, officials said, but most producers are located in a nine-state area where the feed grains and wheat signup period has been extended two weeks to April 4.

These states are Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. The extension was made to allow snowbound farmers more time to participate, the department said.

Wheat program participation totaled 32.1 million acres of this year's national allotment of 51.6 million, about 63 per cent, the department also reported.

This year's allotment was cut back 13 per cent, and in addition the department hopes farmers will agree to take from production around six million acres for which they will receive diversion payments.

The extra wheat diversion totaled nearly 3.4 million acres by last Saturday, officials said.

Hruska Urges Bill Against Racketeers

Washington (AP) — Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R.-Neb., introduced a bill Thursday to help prevent racketeer infiltration of legitimate business.

It would provide criminal penalties for investing, in any business affecting interstate commerce, either income not reported on federal tax returns or derived from gambling, loan-sharking, narcotics and other illegal activities.

The bill also would provide for triple damage suits, injunctions, and other tools of antitrust machinery for legitimate businessmen damaged by unfair competition from racketeer infiltrators.

Hruska told the Senate that the annual take of organized crime from illegal activities is estimated in excess of $10 billion.

"Not all of this finds its way into legitimate businesses," he said, "but nevertheless the availability of such a staggering sum represents enormous danger to the American economy."

Gas Finding Told

Dallas (UPI) — Delhi Australian Petroleum Co. reported a gas discovery in south Australia 39 miles southeast of the Moomba field.

No Playground Activity Today

Omaha Gorillas May Be Expecting

Omaha, Neb. (AP) — Casey, the visiting gorilla from the St. Paul, Minn., zoo, may become a father twice this fall.

Henry Doorly Zoo Director Dr. Warren Thomas said Thursday indications are that both the zoo's female gorillas are pregnant but it is too early to be certain.

"We are seeing a behavior change in the two females. They are more quiet and reserved and more interested in eating and sleeping than anything else," Dr. Thomas said. The females, Benoit and Brigitte, are slowly gaining weight, he added.

Dr. Thomas explained that most chemical tests for pregnancy are not reliable on gorillas.

Gorillas born in captivity are very uncommon, and it would be significant if Casey sires offspring," Dr. Thomas said.

Smith Confirmed

Washington (AP) — The Senate confirmed the nomination of James Smith of Omahas assistant secretary of the interior for water and power Thursday.

Bowen Reported Possibility For State FHA Post

Washington (AP) — Kenneth L. Bowen of Lincoln, Neb., former speaker of the Nebraska legislature, was reported by congressional sources Thursday to be a strong possibility for appointment as state director of the Farmers Home Administration.

There was no indication how soon Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin will make known his selection for the post.

The present director, Heasty Beesman is due for retirement in May.

State Business, Retail Sales Increase From Year Ago

General business and retail sales in Nebraska during January showed a significant increase over the level of the same month in 1968 and a predictable decline from the previous month of December with its peak Christmas buying season.

A January retail sales increase of 6.8 per cent over the previous year and a general business gain of 5.4 per cent are reported in the March issue of Business in Nebraska published by the Bureau of Business Research, an agency of the University of Nebraska's College of Business Administration.

While both physical and dollar volume indexes indicated Nebraska's general level of business activity in December, 1968, was above the same month last year, both were approximately four per cent lower than the U.S. average. On a month-to-month basis, however, Nebraska's changes were nearly equal to those of the U.S. in 1968.

In the first month of 1969, Nebraska's dollar volume of retail sales jumped nearly seven per cent over the previous January, with much of this increase attributed to rising prices.

Nebraska's general business index for January 1969 shows a 5.4 per cent increase over the same month a year ago. Kearney registered the swiftest climb, 12.9 per cent. The only reporting communities showing declines were Nebraska City, down 1.1 per cent, and McCook, down 7.1.

Other reporting towns with general business increases were: Columbus, 9.0; Grand Island, 8.9; North Platte, 8.4; Holdrege, 7.8; Chadron, 7.1; Broken Bow, 7.1; York, 6.0; Alliance, 5.7; Omaha, 5.6; Beatrice, 4.9; Norfolk, 4.6; Lincoln, 3.7; Hastings, 3.6; Fremont, 3.0; Falls City, 1.8; South Sioux City, 1.7; Sidney, 1.7; Scottsbluff, 1.0; and Fairbury, .7.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There was once a fellow named Hickok whom they called "Wild Bill." The original "Wild Bill" was shot dead nearly 100 years ago but his spirit apparently lives on. Take, for instance, the case of City Councilman Willard Harold "Bill" Davidson.

Davidson recently authored an ordinance controlling the display of gasoline prices which was so bad that even he voted against it, after making the motion himself that it be indefinitely postponed. Now, he wants to eat his cake and have it, too, in the matter of the city's electric utility.

Davidson throws out for consideration that we sell the Lincoln Electric System (LES) for $40 million, invest the proceeds and sit back and draw $2.5 million a year in interest income, about a third of the city's current general fund property tax receipts.

This he would not want to do, of course, at the sacrifice of low electric rates. He would, in fact, want to continue control over rates by the City Council.

Obviously, if you could do what Davidson would like to do, it would be simply great. After all, the city government could sure use $2.5 million in gravy every year. But it ought to be obvious to anyone that you can't do it.

To begin with, you can't sell anything and still have control over it. When you sell something, control goes to the buyer. This is true even of utility operations that come under regulatory agencies.

Does the City Council think it really has any control over bus rates or gas rates, both of which it passes on? It is little more than a nuisance to these two operations.

★

Davidson doesn't even mind private power purchase of LES if a good deal could be arranged. We wouldn't mind it, either, if the Rockefeller family wanted to pay off the indebtedness on the new County-City Building but we are not about to waste our time asking it to do it.

Additionally, a private power company would have to pay the full load of federal, state and local taxes as well as making a profit for its stockholders. How could anyone even conceive that this could be done while rates remained the same?

LES could be sold to Consumers Public Power District, of course, or another non-municipal power agency created. This would be the next best thing to what we now have but it would still be next best, and just as obviously so.

Any public agency buying LES would have to issue bonds to do so. This bonded debt would have to be reflected in the rates charged to local users.

Thus, just when we are three years away from a debt-free system, Davidson wonders if we don't want to go back in the hole. Certainly, what we paid in electric rates for the debt coverage would be at least as much as we would get back from our $2.5 million investment.

The really basic issue, it seems, is whether you want to operate the electric utility with the lowest rates possible or whether you want the utility operation to finance other government functions.

There has always been the temptation to use utility revenues for what would otherwise be tax-supported activities. Cities are hard pressed for money and the money-making utilities look like the proverbial pot of gold.

But when you start taking utility money for tax operations, your control over spending goes out the window. With regular taxes, the public knows what it is being charged for public services but if it were paying for some public functions through higher electric rates, it wouldn't know what its true bill was for anything.

Davidson would be better off if he gave some thought to his ideas before he tossed them out. But if the City Council has nothing else to do, a thorough study of Davidson's proposal might be at least educational.

'Can't You Keep Up With The Criminals?'

A Doctor's Battle

Living up to his professional oath and the dictates of humanity has cost a young doctor—a Nebraska native—his health and much of his business but his work has to have earned him the respect of all decent Americans and a self-satisfaction that certain of his colleagues in South Carolina could not understand.

Dr. Donald Gatch first ignited the controversy in 1967 when he charged that children in his area, mostly Negroes, were dying of starvation and that families lived in huts worse than pigsties. These and later reports touched off a Senate investigation of hunger in the nation and resulted in the distribution of free food stamps in South Carolina counties as a stop-gap measure. His statements scoffed at by other doctors in his county, the 38-year-old physician was backed up by an independent team of scientists reporting that 73% of 131 pre-school Negro children in the county were infested with worms, due to living conditions and diet.

Dr. Gatch has worked 20 to 22 hours a day over the past few weeks, treating Negroes in a three-to-five-county area whose medical needs will not be attended by other white physicians.

For his efforts, the physician has been ostracized by fellow doctors, received threatening phone calls and has been boycotted by white patients. He was beaten in his office by a gang of white thugs.

The rugged pace and circumstances finally caught up with Dr. Gatch. He was hospitalized because of malnutrition, exhaustion and intestinal parasites—worms acquired through numerous trips to homes of poor people to treat starving and infected children.

This story of the crusading doctor points to the obvious conclusion that racism, ignorance and false pride remain largely unbated in the South, even among the professions. We can at least be thankful that there is a Dr. Gatch who can understand the misery and privation, tell the truth and shoulder the work that others shirk.

Farm Bureau Doesn't Give Up

The American Farm Bureau Federation doesn't give up very easily. It is now back at the same old stand — pushing the new administration in Washington to abandon the present acreage control and price support program for a free competitive market.

The Farm Bureau has added a few new wrinkles such as a dole here and there to an estimated half million farmers who would be forced off the land under their program. It has not said much about another million or so farmers who are in the middle income and size group, many of whom would go broke under the Farm Bureau plan.

Left under the Farm Bureau plan after all the damage was done might be a couple million farmers, many of whom we suspect would somehow or other be at the mercy of the Farm Bureau, probably through marketing contracts.

The consumer might think he would benefit under a free market plan, but he wouldn't. It would not be a real free market. It would be a market controlled by big operators or, perhaps, the Farm Bureau. That's about as sure a guarantee for higher prices as the consumer could have.

The Farm Bureau talks disparagingly of the current "subsidy" program. The fact is that the current program has worked fairly well and with very little upward adjustment could work remarkably well. As to subsidies, who gets more than business and industry through such an array of tax loopholes that it takes a tax attorney to figure them all out?

Agnew Made Deal With Texas Oilmen

WASHINGTON — This column has now dug out the details of a pre-election deal between the Texas oil barons and Vice President Spiro Agnew.

The oilmen met with Agnew last October 21 at the plush Petroleum Club in Midland, Tex., to discuss campaign finances. In return for their contributions, they wanted Agnew's word that the Nixon administration would block Occidental Petroleum from building a $145 million oil refinery, storage complex and deepwater port at Machiasport, Me.

Under the proposal, Machiasport would be declared a "foreign trade zone," which would permit Occidental to import foreign oil free of the normal customs and trade restrictions. This could open New England to a flood of cheaper, low-pollutant fuel oil, which would undercut the rigged prices that the oil companies now charge for imported oil.

Agnew not only gave his secret pledge to the Texas oil crowd, but he has now reminded Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans of this commitment to block the Machiasport project.

A foreign trade zone, though physically located in the United States, is considered for trade purposes to be outside the country. If Machiasport should be granted this status, Occidental could bring in foreign oil for $1.25 to $1.46 a barrel less than the cost of domestic crude oil, currently $3.20 to $3.50 a barrel at Dallas.

Other oil importers pocket the difference, which adds up to a staggering sum each year. On the East Coast alone, this windfall surpasses $300 million a year. Yet not one cent of this has been passed along to the consumers.

In contrast, Occidental has offered to slash prices both to civilian consumers and the armed forces. This almost surely would compel the other oil companies to give up part of their windfall, too. Result: All the other oil companies have ganged up angrily to block the Occidental proposal.

Approval of the Occidental deal is supposed to come from the secretaries of commerce, treasury and defense who, together, comprise the Foreign Trade Zones Board. In the past, their alternates have made the decisions, which have been ratified routinely by the busy cabinet officers over the phone.

The alternates, acting on the merits, voted a few weeks ago in favor of establishing a foreign trade zone at Machiasport. The oil tycoons immediately got hold of Agnew and reminded him of his October 21 pledge.

No Evidence Of Change On Vietnam Scene; Administration Feels Little Pressure At Home

WASHINGTON —President Nixon has elaborated a sort of chicken-or-egg argument that, for a number of months past, American forces have not been conducting an offensive in Vietnam — just spoiling operations to blunt a communist offensive they knew was coming. The communist offensive came anyway, and now the allies have mounted a counter-offensive. This is the same old game of lethal leapfrog.

Nixon has also said that "in view of the current offensive on the part of the North Vietnamese and the Vietcong," there was no prospect of a reduction of American forces in South Vietnam. Secretary Laird, testifying before Congress, said that more money was necessary to prepare South Vietnamese to take over the fighting from Americans so that Americans could come home. This is the same old merry-go-round.

As for the Paris negotiations, the best information available in Washington is that the kind of private talks that might produce substantive progress are not yet going on, although such talks may soon begin and Nixon said Friday that "significant progress" was being made toward such a beginning.

This is a familiar and melancholy story. It is almost as if nothing had happened — no elections had been held last year, no change of administrations had taken place; no profound public decision had been registered to take the U.S. out of a dispiriting and divisive war that can neither be won nor justified — no more today than in November.

So, it seems, the fighting must go on — although, to his credit, Nixon has not made the slighest move to renew the attack on North Vietnam itself. There is no prospect of withdrawing American troops; there has been no political initiative, and apparently none is being prepared. And the new administration like the old stands by the Saigon government and all the past American "commitments" as if they had been carved in stone and handed down from Mount Sinai.

Where are the fresh ideas and the new start — let alone any "plan" to end the war — that so many Americans believed they were voting for? What has happened to the opportunities and maneuverability of new men unsullied by the conflicts and policies of the past? The answer from the high councils of this adminstration is that it does not wish to give away the game. It is "locked in" to many positions. It has "commitments."

The reasons for this are not entirely ideological and geopolitical — although Nixon's 15-year record on Indochina clearly shows him to be intellectually comfortable with the current stance of his administration. Nor are they all to be found in the pressures of the military-diplomatic bureaucracy which has so great a vested interest in vindicating its long and fruitless prosecution of this war.

In fact, these influences and whatever others are at work within the administration are having their effect only because Nixon and his associates have decided that they are under no domestic political pressure to settle the war swiftly.

Nixon and other high officials are known to believe that not before the end of summer or perhaps even later will domestic peace pressures become significant, and that in the interim they are free of any political necessity to take unilateral action to end the war or to launch major new initiatives to that end.

So far, this estimate has no doubt been accurate. How long it will remain so is another question. Congressional doves are already restive. But whether it is next week or next autumn before the rallies and the demonstrations begin all over, before the picket lines form again wherever the President goes, before the whole angry and dangerous business of public confrontation is renewed, the administration will wait that long only at great cost.

And that cost will include not only the lives, money and energies cruelly wasted in Vietnam, it will include also another corrosive demonstration of how dubiously, if at all, the American "democratic" process works on questions of high policy.

The Reminders

Scotia, Neb.

Well, the Chicago National Democratic Convention debacle has been "investigated" and some of the police "reprimanded" — a few days off which no doubt they will use for a vacation. The paper didn't say whether their pay would continue or not, but my guess is that they got plenty of pay for their "work" while the convention was in session.

Anyway, Nixon got to be president and to heck with anything else. He is now making decisions and conclusions and making everything clear. In case people might forget, he reminds them quite frequently that he is president of the United States.

As for the ABM I'm no authority on that but he no doubt has friends who will be recipients of contracts for building missile sites, etc.

Campaign expenses should be paid.

Sentence Reduced

Lincoln, Neb.

I am very curious as to how in the world these alcoholics get their sentences on drunk driving charges reduced either to negligent driving or reckless driving. I am talking about a certain case that was in the paper only recently. This individual has been picked up at least three times before. But the sentence was reduced to negligent driving. The next time, he may kill someone.

Is it that he runs a local business here in town and that money talks when it comes to getting off the hook, or just what is it?

I know there are a lot of people disgusted about this ordeal and in case the person whom I am talking about reads this, I know he has a feeling of, "Well, I did it again."

We must stiffen our laws on drunken drivers.

The Dove Pleads

Hey, don't shoot! Take notice! Remember me? I am a poor little lovable, undefiled, harmless bird. My abode is the gardens, valleys, clefts of rocks, mountains and the secret stairs of the Heavenly Father. I have worked in His house through all eras of time. The most glorifying was the time God used the form of my body to descend upon His only begotten Son so that the people would know and believe Him.

I am a messenger, deliverer and communicator of love, life and liberty. My voice is heard by the poor, rich and those in between and is likened unto that which is lost in the wilderness. "Believe, trust and obey," it pleads and appears to come from nowhere, yet it is somewhere.

Men have had seats kicked out from under them and discharged from God's house because they tried to make me a product of merchandise.

I am the dove — the living, universal symbol of peace and good will toward men. Please, woodsmen, sportsmen and men of the field, save me. Let not His word go back to Him void.

Dove Hunting

Edgar, Neb.

I see a few people are writing to The Star in regard to the dove bill. I believe that 99% of the complaints come from people who don't understand wildlife and I'll bet none of them ever contributed a nickel to wildlife.

We have six acres of trees and shrubs for a game refuge. Thousands of birds use this area for winter cover and nesting in summer. Yet I would be willing to let people hunt doves if we had a season. Hunting pressure will never hurt the birds. If it did, I would be the first person to help stop hunting.

Wouldn't it be much better to have some of those who are demonstrating on the streets go out and hunt? I would rather go hunting with my boy than go hunting for him in town at a pool hall or beer joint. There has to be some place for the youngsters and oldsters to burn up their energy.

We are forcing the sportsmen to go to Kansas and Texas to hunt doves. That is one of the biggest sports down there. Why should we have to spend $100 to drive out of the state to hunt when we have good hunting right here? All that money spent in other states could be used at home.

Inspection Items

Greenwood, Neb.

It looks as if the state will get more tax money, one way or another. At $2 a vehicle, one million vehicles means $2 million for Nebraskans to pay. The state will get $80,000 in taxes from that and we each have to pay at least $9 to have our car in shape. That will mean $9 million more to be taxed. So that will be $1,620,000 more in taxes the state will take in.

We all know that every car that is five years old has rusted floor pans, so if they have to be junked for new ones, there is more sales tax. And on top of this, they want to boost the sales tax again.

I would say that the car inspection law is unconstitutional due to the fact that we endanger our lives in more ways than one every day. Sure, our vehicles should be safe to drive as far as others are concerned, lights, horn, brakes, being able to start and stop and turn properly. But in matters such as exhaust, that should be up to the individual. If he has an old car with no floor pan, he should have a window down. All cars leak exhaust fumes, even the new ones. A person isn't supposed to sit in a car with all the windows up while it is idling. A law against this would do more good than spending one's last dime to have a floor pan fixed.

Terry Carpenter was right — the rules aren't worth the paper they are printed on.

We see now why Lincoln was included by amendment in LB 190 (urban renewal). The "Lincoln Development" group wants to promote a building between 11th and 12th and O and N by revenue bonds and securing the property through condemnation through urban renewal.

Lovely, but the voters won't let the downtown businessmen promote that at their expense! Even the $100,000 the block is paying in taxes would be lost through this subterfuge financing. If the D.D. (Dow Development) wants public parking, let them shell out from their own tills.

Invasion Of Privacy

Lincoln, Neb.

This may appear far-fetched but it is a problem that may be the beginning of another chipping off of our freedoms. We must be prepared for this invasion of our most personal business.

A Star editorial of July 3, 1968 mentioned Rep. Edward J. Gurney of Florida who warned us of a new government racket that will sock us in March, 1970. It is then that the census-takers will come into homes to bleed everyone dry by asking 120 questions that concern only us. If we protest, we are threatened by 60 days in jail and a $100 fine. As usual, the rich tax-evaders will be shown loopholes by their lawyers as to how to skip the unpleasant entry into their personal ways of life.

It is sickening to see our freedoms, our birthrights being stripped from us. Let us wake up and protest being hoodwinked into a deeper state of monarchy.

On July 3, 1968, Robert Denney and other congressmen expressed concern and agreed that the usual seven questions are quite ample and that the government should bring this to a close before it gets started.

On March 10 of this year we were again warned by news reports to get on the ball and flood our congressmen, even the President, with loud protests against this unconstitutional act against our "own business."

These reports are supposed to keep track of the number of people, increased growth, which is already being taken care of. Adding to the census-taker's work would only be an excuse for higher wages.

Nursing Schools

Lincoln, Neb.

In reference to the article printed March 11, 1969, concerning the closure of St. Elizabeth School of Nursing, we as alumnae want to make it known that we are supporting our school and are concerned with the future of nursing education in our community.

With the growing demand for nurses, we appeal to all the citizens of the community for their support. Are they aware that there is a proposed bill before the Legislature to allow state support for schools of nursing?

A public hearing will be held Monday, March 24, 1969. Everyone's interest is needed.

Sorry, Sorry

Lincoln, Neb.

In an otherwise accurate printing of my letter concerning the AAUP stand on LB7 (Star, March 19), one error needs correction. The published version refers to "undying debate on the floor of the Legislature." My original reference was to "the unedifying debate" — quite a different point, although debates can also be endless.

Impatience With Protesters Growing

By The Associated Press

Signs of increasing impatience with student demonstrators are beginning to appear among the nation's courts, lawmakers and school officials.

In Los Angeles Thursday, Superior Court Judge Raymond Choate sentenced three students from California State College at Los Angeles to 30 days in jail for campus vandalism despite pleas from their lawyers that they would fail spring courses and not graduate.

"If this is the case," Judge Choate said, "then the punishment more properly fits the crime."

In Columbus, Ohio, Juvenile Court Judge John Hill sentenced two West High School students Wednesday to seven days detention during spring vacation as the result of a sit-in at the school.

Green Has An Answer

A Long Island judge, Edward U. Green Jr., 39, said Thursday he thinks he has the answer to law-breaking campus demonstrators: "I send them to jail without making them criminals."

Judge Green said he sees no comparison between campus protesters and early Americans who broke English law to found the nation. He declared: "The American heroes were persecuted, they went to jail. If the kids want to be martyrs, let them be arrested and let them go to jail. They can't be martyrs without pain."

Another judge, in Cambridge, Mass., meted out jail terms Wednesday ranging from six months to a year to four men who invaded a Harvard University class March 11 and broke up a lecture. A young woman with them was fined $200.

California legislators have filed about 70 bills in Sacramento, most of them aimed at giving administrators greater authority over students and faculty members involved in demonstrations and disorders.

Iowa state senators have introduced a bill that would require summary dismissal of students and faculty members involved in disorders on state university campuses — without a hearing.

Crackdown Ordered

The University of California has issued substantial crackdown instructions that include provisions for the rare use of expulsion, which is final, rather than just dismissal, which allows a student to return if he merits readmission.

Pennsylvania State University, however, announced Thursday an experiment with labor mediation, saying that Theodore W. Kheel, noted New York City mediator, will visit the school April 2.

"This meeting," he said, "will be purely preliminary and exploratory to ascertain whether or not through mediation there may be the opportunity to develop useful and productive dialogue among and between all sectors of the university."

Mayor Would Oppose LES Sale

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf said Thursday he would not favor any attempt to sell the Lincoln Electric System (LES) as a means for raising money.

Councilman Bill Davidson has offered for study a suggestion that the city sell the electric utility for $40 million and invest the money to yield a $2.4 million interest to pay for capital improvements.

Davidson said the utility could be sold to some power firm such as Consumer's Public Power District.

Mayor Schwartzkopf said the idea "looks good on the surface, but I just cannot see this proposal."

The mayor said the LES is operating efficiently.

He said that the $31 million capital improvements program which LES wants to undertake over the next six years would be paid by utility revenue and $16.6 million in revenue bonds without any general revenue funds.

"Any buyer would have to pay for these improvements too, besides paying off the debt and interest that would result from borrowing money to purchase LES, since the improvements are designed to improve service in the city," the mayor said.

Jerry Bowen, a City Council candidate, also indicated he would oppose the sale of LES.

"It would be like killing the goose that lays the golden egg," Bowen said, in view of the utility's continued profits.

He said the city's ability to offer low rates helps attract industry to the city.

City Hall Shift Is Completed

The move from City Hall into the new County-City Building has been completed and all city offices in the new building will be open Friday.

That was the word Thursday from W. Wayne Harvey, city purchasing agent and coordinator of the city's move into the new building.

Harvey noted that the move, which was planned to take 11 days, was finished six days ahead of schedule.

He said the Police Department and the Municipal Court would probably move into the new building in the middle of April.

Ninth Full Paris Session Fruitless

Paris (AP) — The opposing sides in the Vietnam talks formally accused each other Thursday of intensifying the war, and the ninth full session passed without any sign of progress toward peace.

The day's angriest declaration came from the South Vietnamese delegate, who charged that many enemy divisions are preparing a new attack on Saigon. He told the other side to call it off "in order to keep alive the prospects for these meetings."

There is little expectation here, in any case, that the Paris talks themselves will produce real progress toward peace. The feeling is that Paris has become a stage where the words are spoken. It is like a forum, held ready in case secret contacts elsewhere should someday provide a result.

The four participants — Americans, North Vietnamese, South Vietnamese and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front — met for only four hours and read their routine-sounding formal statements. There was, however, a brief discussion period later.

The chief U.S. delegation spokesman, Harold Kaplan, said the tone at the discussions seemed "more serene" than previously. Otherwise, he said, "I don't think the meeting today differed markedly from the previous meetings."

The meeting of the four delegations was the briefest to date. They meet again next Thursday.

NWU's Mock U.N. To Hear D. Lenessky

Nebraska Wesleyan University's Model United Nations program gets into full swing Friday with mock General Assembly and Security Council meetings.

David Lenessky, a staff member of the Policies Study Committee of the U.N. Association of the U.S.A., will keynote the program at a 10 a.m. convocation Friday in O'Donnell Auditorium.

William Galbraith, a past national commander of the American Legion and now with the U.S. Agriculture Department, will speak at a 6 p.m. banquet in the Campus Center for all mock U.N. participants.

The Security Council and General Assembly will consider resolutions on South Africa, withdrawing U.S. troops from South Vietnam, world hunger and a central bank fund.

The mock U.N. sessions continue through Saturday afternoon.

4,000 Attend Feed

Guaranteed Job System Said Needed In U.S.

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

A "guaranteed job system" is the best method for solving the problem of people without money, a noted social worker and author declared here Thursday.

The United States needs to accept a national policy that "the work ethic is the important thing," Dr. John B. Turner of Cleveland, Ohio, emphasized.

Turner, dean of the School of Applied Sciences at Case Western Reserve University, said "if we really want to get on with solving problems" of people without money, "we have to be prepared to offer a guaranteed job system."

Equivalent

Turner contended that anyone should be able to get a job. But if a job does not exist for a person, "the U.S. should be prepared to give him money — the equivalent of a job he is capable of holding.

"Until we handle the lack-of-income situation, all other welfare programs won't come to much," he said.

Large segments of the population, he noted, tend to be sicker than others, stay sicker longer, drop out of schools and stay unemployed longer.

Programs have been established to try to improve these situations, but the basic problem is that "they are all without money," he explained.

Leading Study

Turner, a member of the national committee which will decide on use of federal funds appropriated for social work education, was in Lincoln to lead a two-day institute for some 175 Nebraska social workers who have had graduate social work education.

The speaker told The Star that lack of jobs is not the fault of unemployed individuals. Therefore, unemployed persons "should not be in a position of becoming second class citizens," he said.

He indicated that President Nixon's statement that the U.S. might have to create more unemployment to curb inflation would "ignite discontent."

Getting Through

The "one thing that was beginning to get through in the ghetto was that some persons were getting jobs," he said. "But the last to be hired will be the first fired."

Turner also pointed out that an increasing number of people do not have trust and confidence in community leaders, in both public and private agencies.

"We can't afford to ignore this question of trust," he declared.

Cooperation With Housing Unit Pledged

Bill Swearingen, a Lincoln realtor who represents a group of Air Force people interested in purchasing the old Lincoln Air Base housing area, has announced his group is not depending on the Lincoln Housing Authority for tenants but "would cooperate with the authority whenever the need arose."

Swearingen said he made the comment to make clear his group's plans if it is successful in purchasing the housing area.

Officials of General Services Administration (GSA) announced earlier this month that the housing area will be sold publicly through sealed bids.

Swearingen subsequently announced his group will make a bid for the 1,000-housing-unit area.

"Lincoln voters have indicated by their turning down of urban renewal that they did not want the Housing Authority or City of Lincoln in the housing business, and as public servants, the authority should adhere to the wishes of the public," he said.

He added: "It is because of this that our group was formed with the idea of working in cooperation with the Lincoln Housing Authority."

GSA turned down Lincoln Housing Authority bids for the property and announced the area would be available for bids from both private and governmental agencies.

The Housing Authority has expressed an interest in submitting another bid on the units.

Town Talk

There was a birthday party the other day — on Tuesday, to be more specific — and to be even more specific it was an evening party.

The birthday celebrant was Miss Shelley Kilbourne, and the host and hostess for the family dinner at the University Club were Miss Kilbourne's mother, Mrs. John E. Bloom, and Mr. Van Bloom. And by the way — it was Miss Kilbourne's 18th anniversary.

☆ ☆ ☆

We heard a rumor that various of the young set had some interesting thoughts about the approaching Easter vacation — and what to do with it. So, we checked. Some of the plans are yet in the maybe yes — maybe no — stage which means we can't do much talking about them at the moment.

☆ ☆ ☆

When the members of the Thursday Club were the luncheon guests of Mrs. H. E. Gooch yesterday it was the club's first meeting since the winter vacation season began. It was unquestionable evidence that many of those who hied themselves off to Florida or Arizona, or some other balmy clime for the winter months, are back in town. There were, however, two absentees — They still are vacationing.

☆ ☆ ☆

In town for a few days this week are Mr. and Mrs. Alan McIntosh and their daughter, Jean, of Luverne, Minn., who have been spending their time visiting old friends.

☆ ☆ ☆

Vacation time is about over for Cadet Sgt. Carl J. Guenzel, III, who has been spending his spring holiday from Kemper Military School and College at Boonville, Mo., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guenzel.

Cadet Guenzel arrived home on March 14, and leaves on Sunday to return to Kemper.

Suburbia

Asking what the weather will do next is like asking what the suburban activity will be — Neither question is likely to be very fruitful, because both are changing so rapidly. The changes in the weather may be for the worse, but as far as suburban happenings are concerned, they seem to be as varied as the moods of "Mother Nature", but far more interestng.

It was "Aloha" early Thursday morning for Mrs. Bill Berryman, who boarded a plane bound for Honolulu, Hawaii, where she will meet her husband, Spec. 4c Bill Berryman, who will be on a week's leave from Vietnam. It will be an especially happy reunion for Spec. 4c and Mrs. Berryman because they had just a week after their Oct. 5 marriage before he went to his Vietnam station.

Mrs. Berryman, the former Nancy Miller, is residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Miller, on Santa Monica Dr. in Hollywood Heights.

But not everyone flies to Hawaii for a week's vacation — Our Eastridge news, for example, is of three recent Arizona vacationers.

Mrs. Allen Overcash, Julie, and Jim, left their home at 6021 Sunrise Rd. last week for some visiting and fun in the sun at Mesa, Ariz. The three travelers returned to Lincoln on Tuesday.

Moving half way across the country is never an easy task, but can you imagine moving half way across the country with three children, two cats, and two dogs? That is exactly what Mr. and Mrs. John Millet are doing.

The former Lincoln residents, their youngsters Lisa, John, and Laure, and their pets, arrived late Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Georgia Jones, who was their hostess for their brief Lincoln stay. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Millet and Mrs. Jones were the dinner and afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Maly, as were, also, Carl Christopherson and Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Wall.

On Monday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Millet and company resumed their journey, which began in Columbia, Mo., and will end in Grant's Pass, Ore., where Mr. Millet will be a soil conservationist with the Forest Service.

"GET EXTRA MILK FOR THE WEEKEND," says Barbara Cowsill, singing mother of the Cowsills.

"Weekends really put a strain on the milk supply at our house."

"My brood gets extra active on weekends. And that always makes them extra thirsty. The milk literally vanishes from the refrigerator. Especially with the way they bring in friends for snacks. And there's always Sunday breakfast. We like big ones. The nine of us will drink up two gallons of milk between sunrise and noon. I've learned the best way to cope with this "milk drain" is to be prepared. I make it a point to get more milk for the weekend. Shouldn't you?"

Fiftieth Birthday

To mark the 50th anniversary of the League of Women Voters, the national organization has announced plans to raise $11 million to expand its efforts and effectiveness.

With the ratification of the 19th amendment in 1919, allowing women the right to vote in all elections, the league was organized nationally to encourage women to keep informed on political issues and to provide nonpartisan education which would contribute to the growth of the citizen and assure the success of demcracy.

Today, the league has a membership of 150,000 in 1,250 communities in all 50 states as well as the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. In Nebraska — which, incidentally gave women the right to vote in 1917, and was the 14th state to ratify the 19th amendment—the league numbers 725 members in local leagues at Columbus, Grand Island, Kearney, Lincoln, North Platte and Omaha.

The league's fund-raising campaign will be assisted by a national committee of sponsors headed by John W. Gardner, head of the Urban Coalition and former Secretary of Health Education and Welfare.

Serving as honorary chairman of the Nebraska Sponsors Committee will be Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, and committee members will include Walter Behlen, Columbus; Leo A. Daly, John D. Diesing, Morris F. Miller, Frank Morrison, Robert E. Runice and Richard W. Walker all of Omaha; Val Peterson, Hastings; Jerome Warner, Waverly; Robert B. Crosby and Paul W. White, Lincoln.

BIDDING QUIZ

Partner bids One Heart, next player passes, both sides are vulnerable, and you have a part score of 90. What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠AJ94 ♥KQ63 ♦J72 ♣J9
2. ♠J985 ♥74 ♦Q63 ♣AKJ5
3. ♠KQ4 ♥Q82 ♦AJ74 ♣A98
4. ♠KJ73 ♥AQ64 ♦8 ♣KJ92
5. ♠7 ♥AQ5 ♦AK963 ♣KQ74

1. Two hearts. The meanings of many bids change considerably when a side has a part score. Thus, it would be normal to respond three hearts (forcing) on this hand without a part score, but with it you should bid only two hearts. Since you are deliberately going one level beyond game, the raise to two hearts constitutes a mild slam try.

The chief purpose of the raise is to cater to those hands that offer a chance for a slam. For example, partner might have ♠5 ♥A98752 ♦AKQ6 ♣K7 which would easily produce twelve tricks. Obviously, partner's only possible opening bid is one heart.

2. One notrump. Without a part score the normal response is one spade or two clubs, but with it the only proper bid is one notrump. Ordinarily, a one notrump response shows 6 to 9 points, but the range widens to 6 to 12 in the presence of a part score of 90.

3. Two notrump. This is a clear-cut slam try. A two notrump response would ordinarily show 13 to 15 points, but with a part score the range is slightly higher. Partner may of course pass with minimum values, since the jump response is not forcing. Without a part score the correct response would be three notrump.

4. Three hearts. This also invites slam, but again the jump is not forcing. Partner should pass with minimum values.

Note the difference between this hand and the first one, where two hearts denoted only mild interest in a slam. Here, with more high cards and better distribution, slam possiblities are much brighter. The difference is in degree only; the double raise is in line with the general principle that the more you bid the more you've got.

5. Three diamonds. This is 100% forcing and partner must bid again even with a bedrock minimum. Three diamonds is a jump-shift, as distinguished from a jump-raise. Jump-raises are merely limit bids reflecting the degree of strength.

Jump-shifts have no ceiling. They may contain as few as 17 points, or as many as 26 or more points. The opening bidder responds naturally, showing the distributional nature of his hand or extra values if he has them.

State Officer To Attend AAUW Program

A special guest at the Legislative Day of the American Association of University Women, to be held Saturday at the Hotel Lincoln, will be Mrs. E. T. Swanson of North Platte, president of the Nebraska Division of AAUW.

Abby: you pay

DEAR ABBY: My husband rushed me to the hospital to have my baby as I started to get pains in the lower part of my back and since I never had a baby before I was told that is where the pains start.

Well, after I got to the hospital the pains tapered off and nothing happened so they finally sent me home saying it was "false labor."

I got a bill for $43.50. Since it was false labor and nothing happened, do I have to pay this bill?

NO BABY

DEAR NO: Yes. (And not in confederate money, either.)

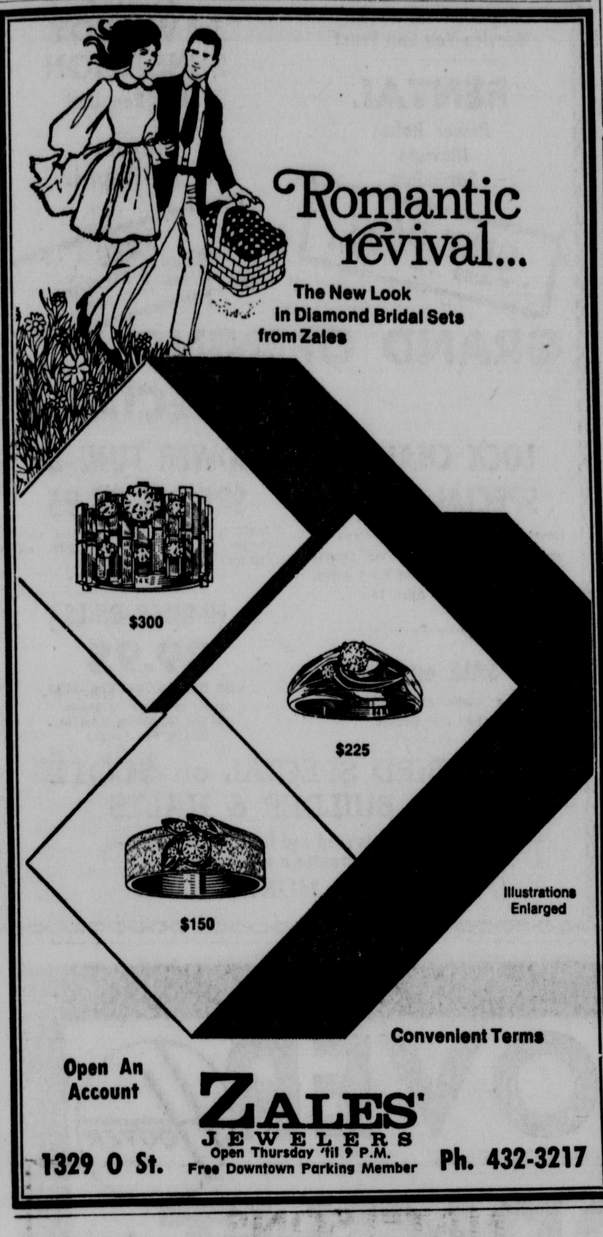

DEAR ABBY: How does this grab you? The other day while visiting my mother-in-law, I noticed two hand-painted plates that were mine. I was shocked when I saw them and asked "When did I give those plates to you?

She replied, "You didn't. I saw them down in your cellar during those three weeks you and Tom were separated. I figured they'd just get broken, so I took them."

What would YOU have done?

MAD REDHEAD

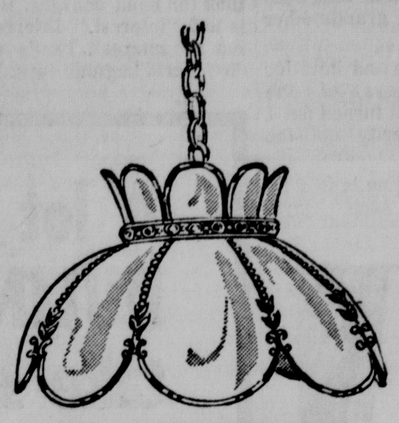

DEAR MAD: I'd have told her that now that the danger of "breakage" had subsided, I'd like to have my plates.

POSTCARD by Stan Dooleyplane

"God save us from the tax collectors," said my grandmother O'Dooleyplane. "They'll take the pig and come back for the squeal."

A certain softness in the air. Not spring but close on. Our hillsides are green again. The Dutch tulips are pushing up green spears. The tax people have sent around the annual notice.

"If the amount on Line 8 is deducted from Line 9, pay whichever is the greater amount."

☆ ☆ ☆

Not all sweet charity is deductible. If you give to the birds it is not.

I bought a Sweetsong Birdfeeder and birdseed to fill it. "Fill your yard with the song of the birds," said the magazine advertisement. "Your money refunded if not completely satisfied."

I am a mail order buyer. "Impulse sometimes rules your heart," says the daily horoscope.

The tax man drew a line through that deduction.

"What about the spirit of St. Francis?" I cried.

Do you know you can give to charities who feed birds? But you cannot give to the birds directly.

In the freezing rain of winter, I put guy wires on a tree that was about to fall on the house.

This changed my situation from storm damage (deductible) to home improvement (not deductible).

Next winter I won't get out the storm boots and wire cutters. I'll sit snug and warm reading "Hints on Your Income Tax."

☆ ☆ ☆

"It is spring when you can put your foot on three daisies at once." That is a poet speaking. But what do poets know about household gardening problems?

Poets live in garrets. Rumpling up chambermaids — who may be named Daisy.

Not much you can do with gardens to make them deductible. Though it costs a ruddy fortune to keep the weeds down.

"It is spring when you can put your foot on three mortgages at once," I say.

"Interest on your mortgage is deductible," said the tax accountant.

"Bless your heart, it's all interest," I said. I own little of our scatter. Can't afford to. I am paying too much interest.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Butter wouldn't melt in the mouths of them that sells land," said my grandmother O'Dooleyplane.

I bought house and land for the country joys of the suburbs. (Then it turned out I can't give charity to the birds.)

Suburban housing is sold by pointing up such joys. "Country living only 30 minutes from downtown. Easy transportation."

It is 30 minutes if you do it on a speedtrack. Problem is a lot of other country lovers are on the same freeway. Bumper to bumper, mates. Into this lane. Out of that lane. Crunch!

☆ ☆ ☆

Not all interest is interest. There's a handy little thing the stores tack onto your bill — a "carrying charge."

It comes to more interest than the bank charges. But it is not "interest." Interesting but not interest. That's what the federal bagman says.

Tattoos are not deductible. Otherwise I'd be a walking Renoir. I've wanted a few tattoos for years. But home improvement and self improvement are not interesting to our government.

"What about all this beautifying the countryside?" I asked the tax accountant.

It seems that is public property. And if you give to the proper institutions, you can beautify anything you want to. But a tattooed dagger through a tattooed dagger through a tattooed heart on your arm — out.

Real Estate Man Kicked Out Of Anguilla

Miami (AP) — A Florida real estate man expelled from Anguilla by British occupation troops arrived in Miami Thursday and said he doesn't think the islanders will long tolerate the British presence.

Jack N. Holcomb said he was picked up by Scotland Yard agents and British paratroopers and deported as being "prejudicial to the public order and safety."

Holcomb said he had been on Anguilla since August as an economic adviser to acting president Ronald Webster. He called the invasion "the worst blunder the British ever made," but said he didn't know what the island could do about it.

The British, Holcomb said, "take millions to mount an invasion, but they won't spend a dime on roads or schools or electricity or telephones or anything else for development."

Council Candidates Reveal Stands On Variety Of Issues

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln City Council candidates, with their "hats in the ring" and an eye on the upcoming April 8 primary election, announced stands Thursday on a variety of issues.

Lincoln voters on April 8 will choose six candidates from the 33 running for office. The six will vie for the three council seats that will be decided at the May 6 general election.

One woman candidate, Mrs. Essie Burden, 37, of 2710 So. 9th, voiced support for the recently proposed city bond issue "to keep up our city's facilties to match its growth."

Mrs. Burden, a chemist at Dorsey Laboratories, said the fire stations, branch libraries and street and sewer improvements are sorely needed.

"Businesses as well as private individuals go into debt to buy major items so that they can have the use of them while they are paying for them," she pointed out.

She also pointed out that because of tax advantages and because Lincoln has an excellent credit rating, the interest rates on municipal bonds "are much lower than the rate available to any businessman or homeowner."

Support Voiced

Frank Carr, 57, of 4209 So. 43rd, also supports the May election bond issues totalling $2.35 million.

"I am definitely in favor of this procedure, as we need the money to build the much needed fire station that will hold the cost of insurance down. We also need the branch library to help our young people as well as our book-reading adults," he said.

Hal Hasselbalch, 36 of 4705 South, said Thursday he objects to pending legislation which would permit cities to enter the sales tax field.

Hasselbalch, a lawyer, said, "Lincoln's leadership as a retail center would be jeopardized if Lincoln adopted a city sales tax and other Nebraska cities declined to invoke such a tax."

Questioned Cost

He also questioned whether the cost of collecting a city sales tax would be justified compared to the amount of revenue raised.

"The voters permitted the state to levy sales and income taxes as a replacement for the state's loss of the property tax and meant the sales and income taxes to be the state's domain," Hasselbalch said.

Another candidate, Verne Gibson, 33, of 1948 Sewell, voiced his comments Thursday regarding the zoning issue — a subject often discussed by council candidates.

Gibson said the protection of residential property and the encouragement of business and industry should be the guide the city uses on zoning matters.

'Deserve Protection'

"Property owners who have invested their money in a home deserve protection from the encroachment of business and industry that would devalue their property. One reason property values of residential homes in Lincoln have remained stable is that the city has protected them through zoning," Gibson said.

He claimed, though, that the city has not had a modern approach to business and industrial zoning.

"Too often zoning decisions have been piecemeal and therefore discriminatory," he charged.

Gibson said he favors zoning of business and industrial land by areas. He said the private owners of the land should be allowed to set up their own timetables for land development.

Advisory Group

He also said he would call for the appintment of an advisory committee on bidding and purchasing procedures for the city.

"The mayor has already made the commitment to appoint such a committee but has never done so," Gibson said.

He said there are many good people locally who are experts in purchasing and who would be able to objectively advise the city.

Charles A. Bates, 68, of 200 W. Saunders, said he feels spending and taxation have exceeded the bounds of common sense and the taxpayer's ability to pay.

'Too Much'

"Too much money is being spent that is not in the best interest of the people," Bates said.

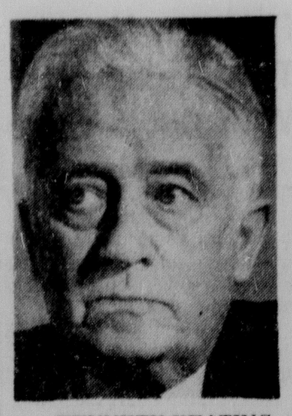

He said he favors the investigation of tax free organizations and that "much of the money currently being spent on fancy lighting and channelization of streets could be better spent on putting in additional traffic lights where none exist and where lights are badly needed."

Bates said he also opposes raising or lowering of the mayor's salary during his elected term of office,urban renewal and calling in "outside experts" to study the city.

Burden's Panel Leaders Selected

The Rev. Willie Leaks and Mrs. Pat Cole have been named co-chairmen of the Burden for City Council Committee, Mrs. Essie Burden announced.

Mrs. Burden, a chemist at Dorsey Laboratories, said Wright P. Robinson will serve as financial chairmen, Ed Pearlstein as treasurer, and Mrs. Patrick W. Healey as coffees chairman.

KENNETH KEATING

Keating To Be Nixon Envoy To New Delhi

© New York Times Service

Washington — Kenneth B. Keating, the former New York senator and now an associate justice of the state court of appeals, will become United States ambassador to India.

Administration sources said Keating had been recommended to the White House as a replacement for Ambassador Chester Bowles.

Keating reportedly met Thursday afternoon with Joseph Sisco, assistant secretary of state for Near East and South Asian affairs, evidently to discuss the ambassadorial post.

It had long been expected that Bowles, 68, would be replaced by the Nixon administration.

Keating, also 68, won six terms in the House and a Senate term in 1958, campaigning as a liberal Republican.

Dr. Vance Rogers, president of Nebraska Wesleyan University, was elected president of the Nebraska Educational Television Council for Higher Education at the annual meeting Thursday in Lincoln.

Dr. Neal Gomon, president of Peru State College, was elected vice president and Jack McBride of Lincoln was elected secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors for 1969-70 were Dr. Rogers and Dr. Gomon; Dr. Kirk Naylor, president, University of Nebraska at Omaha; Dr. Edwin C. Nelson, president, Chadron State College; Dr. Philip Heckman, president. Doane College, Crete;

Dr. William Ptacek, president, Nebraska Western College, Scottsbluff; Dr. Dale Lund, president, Midland College, Fremont; Dr. Michael Paradise, president, Northeastern Nebraska College, Norfolk, and Dr. Merk Hobson, acting chancellor, University of Nebraska.

Council membership represents 25 colleges and universities in Nebraska that use educational television for credit courses and supplemental instruction.

A $49,429 budget was adopted for the 1969-70 academic year. Member institutions finance the work of the council.

Enrollment has increased 16% over 1967-68, according to Lee Rockwell, executive director. Over 12,000 students have viewed supplementary television lessons, he estimated.

The council developed and produced 90 supplementary programs last year. This year's budget will enable the council to telecast 72 supplemental lessons and develop eight new lessons for use by the member schools.

RUTTING . . . clogs road two and a half miles northwest of Emerald.

Weather Damages County Roads

Lancaster County Engineer Walter Hoppe said Thursday that the unusual winter conditions this year have left county roads in such condition that it would take more than $1 million to restore them to their original condition.

He said the prolonged cold, ice and snow have resulted in loss of considerable gravel and chuckholes have developed on both gravel and paved roads.

Hoppe estimated it would require about $300,000 to restore graveled roads to their original condition and between $600,000 and $1,000,000 to restore surfaces on paved roads which have chuckholes and rutting.

He said that his office receives numerous complaints each day about mud holes and impassible spots, but many are "unwilling to pay" for improved roads.

"The general public, including the farmers and rural residents, are demanding more and better roads constructed to higher standards and expect more and faster service — yet, many are unwilling to pay for these services," he said.

The county has more than 200 miles of earth roads, Hoppe said, adding that it is the policy of the county to grade and gravel these roads and maintain them after the first year if the farmer or property owner will pay for half the cost of the first coat of gravel.

Peterson Hopes To Develop Ties With City's Youth

Harry "Pete" Peterson, a candidate for City Council, said he is hopeful of developing in city government closer harmony and cooperation between young people and the various departments.

"I'm working with all youths now because that is our future," Peterson said.

He explained that the young people are Lincoln's biggest resource and that more adults should find time to work with them.

"I think we should develop our young people now so that they can be better leaders tomorrow," Peterson said.

He said committee officers working for his election are Herbert Heuman, chairman; Charles "Chick" Knight, treasurer, and Keith H. Royer, publicity.

Grand Jury Indicts 16 In Convention Violence

. . . Woman Accused Of Hiding Mike

Chicago (AP) — Sixteen persons — eight policemen and eight demonstrators — were indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury on charges stemming from violence at the Democratic National Convention.

A National Broadcasting Co. employe also was indicted on charges of concealing a microphone in a room where the platform committee was meeting in closed session.

Twelve other persons were named as conspirators, but not as defendants.

U.S. Atty. Thomas A. Foran told a news conference that more indictments are expected. He said the federal grand jury will convene later to consider more indictments, possibly within 60 days.

Among Accused

Among those indicted were David T. Dellinger, 53, of Brooklyn; Rennard C. Davis, 28, of Chicago; Thomas Hayden, 29, of New York; Abbott H. Hoffman, 32, of New York; Jerry C. Rubin, 30, of New York; Lee Weiner of Chicago, 29; John F. Froines, 29, of Eugene, Ore., and Bobby G. Seale, 32, of Oakland, Calif.

Bond was set at $10,000 each.

They were specifically charged with conspiring with the intent to incite acts of violence. The indictment said the conspiracy involved teaching other persons how too use incendiary devices and interfering with firemen and law enforcement officials.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said in announcing the indictments in Washington that the eight civilians were the first persons ever to be indicted under antiriot provisions of the 1968 Civil Rights Act.

Interfering With Rights

Seven of the policemen were charged with depriving six individuals of their civil rights during the antiwar demonstrations the week of Aug. 26.

The other policeman, Lt. Carl Dobrich, was charged with perjury while testifying before the grand jury.

The seven policemen indicted on civil rights charges are Arthur R. Bischoff, Thomas M. Mayer, George Jurich, Vincent J. D'Amico, Edward M. Becht, Thomas M. Flemming and Ramon C. Anderson.

Bond was set at $4,000 for Dobrich, and $1,000 each for the other policemen.

Hiding Microphone

The NBC employe indicted was Miss Enid Roth, 38, of New York, identified as a former news director. She was indicted on a charge of hiding a microphone inside a television set in the Conrad-Hilton Hotel room where the Democratic platform committee was meeting in closed session. The microphone was discovered while the meeting was in session.

She was suspended without pay by NBC pending an investigation.

The indictments stemmed from an eight-month investigation by FBI, the Justice Department's criminal and civil rights division and U.S. Atty. Foran.

Police arrested 677 persons during convention week, and 333 have been convicted, paying fines of $18,106. Judges have acquitted 157 defendants, and 187 cases are pending. Most of the charges were disorderly conduct, but 13 persons have been charged with felonies.

Foran said arrests of the persons indicted would begin immediately.

THREE INJURED IN CAR-TRUCK COLLISION

Three persons were injured slightly Thursday when the car in which they were riding was involved in a collision with a semi-trailer truck on Cornhusker Highway near 17th St. The three, identified as Jack Holland of 1611 So. 15th, Richard Campbell of 1764 Euclid and Leland Naderhoff, were treated for cuts and bruises at Bryan Memorial Hospital and released. The car, driven by Holland, and the truck were both eastbound when they collided. (Star Photo)

Tiemann Selects Langley As State Banking Director

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann Thursday appointed Edwin A. Langley, a 38-year-old Lincoln attorney, as state banking director effective April 15.

Langley succeeds State Banking Director C. R. Haines, who is retiring after a 39-year career with the banking department.

Haines, 74, had been deputy director since 1947 until January a year ago when Tiemann promoted him to the top post.

Wishing Haines well in his retirement, Tiemann praised Haines' "devotion to the State of Nebraska and long years of service to the financial industry."

Langley will assume the post at $18,000 annually. Haines was receiving $14,000.

A native of Central City, Langley is a former trust officer of the First National Bank of Omaha.

He received a bachelor's degree in 1957 from Hastings College and a law degree in 1961 from the University of Nebraska. He is a partner of law firm of Nelson, Harding, Richling, Leonard and Tate.

$27,000 Sought In Damage Suit Over Car Crash

A $27,000 suit was filed in Lancaster District Court Thursday by James B. Hitch in connection with a Nov. 10, 1968, two-car accident.

The plaintiff in his action against Eften O. Cockerham alleges that he was a passenger in a car driven by Raymond Swick when it was in collision with a vehicle driven by the defendant at 63rd and Morrill.

He charges the defendant was negligent in failing to maintain proper lookout, to yield right-of-way, to maintain reasonable control and in travelling at a speed greater than reasonable.

The plaintiff alleges as a result of the accident he received a spine injury.

Damage Suit In Two-Car Mishap Seeks $30,000

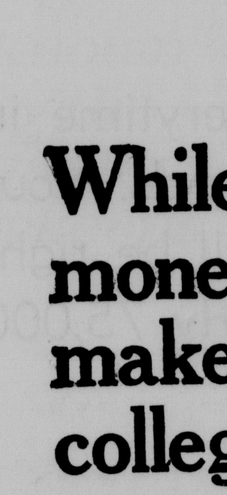

A $30,000 suit was filed in Lancaster District Court Thursday against Eugene L. and Patricia A. Meyer in connection with an Oct. 29, 1968, two-car accident.

The plaintiff, Jean C. Hansen, through her father Francis E. Hansen, alleges negligence on the part of the defendant when the car in which she was riding was in collision with one driven by Patricia Meyer on 70th about one-half mile south of Rt. 2.

The petition charges the defendant with being negligent in failing to maintain proper lookout, reasonable control of the vehicle, in failing to yield right-of-way and to keep the automobile to the right of the center of the road.

As a result of the collision, the plaintiff alleges multiple cuts, bruises, fractures, abrasions and contusions and injuries to the face of a disfiguring nature.

While you're saving money for college, make sure there's a college to save money for.

There are all kinds of ways to save money for a college education.

A good savings account.

Life insurance.

Or U.S. Savings Bonds.

You see, U.S. Savings Bonds will not only save you money, but they'll insure your country's future at the same time.

It's one way of making sure there's a college whenever you're ready to send somebody to college.

But back to the money part.

Let's say you buy your one-year-old son a $25.00 Bond every month. When he's 18 and ready for college, he'll have $5,506.00.

A $50.00 Bond every month would give him $11,012.00 when he's ready to enroll.

And the beauty is, you never have to worry about this investment.

You simply sign up through a Payroll Savings Plan where you work and then sit back and let the money pile up.

Savings Bonds now pay a new higher rate—4¼%—when held to maturity of 7 years.

And if they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, the Treasury Department will replace them free.

Also, with each Series E Bond you buy, you're entitled to buy the same or lower denomination Freedom Share.

Which pays 5% when held to maturity of 4½ years and is redeemable after one year.

Any way you look at it, buying U.S. Savings Bonds makes sense.

They not only get the kids ready for college. They keep the colleges ready for the kids.

You get a little over $4 for every $3 you invest.

Parole Board Change Wins Support

Major legislation establishing a new Board of Parole and enacting a new code for the treatment and correction of criminal offenders won wide support Thursday from law enforcement officials.

Only opposition to the bill, LB1307, was voiced by Lancaster County Juvenile Judge W. W. Nuernberger, who said the code takes "the wrong approach to handling juvenile offenders."

The measure was held by the Government and Military Affairs Committee for later amendment.

Joining in general support of the bill were Attorney General Clarence Meyer, Penal Complex Warden Maurice Sigler, Omaha Police Chief Richard Andersen, and Robert Kutak of Omaha, vice chairman of the Governor's Crime Commission.

Secretary of State Frank Marsh, who like Meyer is a member of the present Board of Pardons, also endorsed the proposal.

Meyer asked the committee to consider several amendments providing the proposed new Board of Parole with wider latitude in making decisions.

Sen. John Knight of Lincoln, chief sponsor of the bill, said the proposal is "a significant step" in providing statutory authority for "a total rehabilitation program" for criminal offenders in the state.

LB1307 would create a division of corrections within the Department of Public Institutions, provide for a new three-member Board of Parole appointed by the governor, and retain the present Board of Pardons for consideration of pardons only.

The new parole board was authorized by a constitutional amendment approved last November. The chairman, under provisions of LB1307, would work at his task full-time.

Sigler said the bill proposes "the best possible way to handle correction problems."

Nuernberger objected to the bill because he said it would "handle a 12-year-old boy the same as an adult felon."

The judge endorsed pending legislation which would establish a separate division for juvenile offenders.

Secret Ballot Ban Proposal Advances

By The Associated Press

A bill having the effect of abolishing the secret ballot at open meetings of governmental bodies in Nebraska was sent to the floor Thursday on a 6-0 vote of the Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee.

The measure, LB869, would require records of meetings to show how each member voted on a proposition. Roll call votes taken in executive sessions would not need to be made public, however.

The bill amends an "open meetings" bill adopted by the Legislature in 1967.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha, sponsor of the measure, said it was prompted by action of the State Game Commission last year in using a secret ballot to choose a new game director and an acting director.

The commission was choosing successors to Mel Steen but the actions were reversed later when it developed that Steen's term was not expiring as commissioners had thought.

Syas said he opposed the open meetings legislation in 1967 but has since changed his mind about it. He said research by the Legislative Council on the vote-recording practices of other governing bodies in Nebraska show them to be "just as bad, or worse," than the game commission.

The committee killed 5-1 another Syas bill, LB868, which would have prohibited political parties from participating in petition efforts to amend the constitution unless such action is approved at a party convention.

Killed 5-1 was a previously-heard LB437, requiring a three-day waiting period before contracts for purchases in excess of $100 are considered closed.

Another Carpenter bill previously heard, LB14, dealing with wholesale liquor pricing, continued to be held after a kill motion failed 2-0.

Salary Hike For Health Post Urged

The going price for a state health director these days calls for an annual salary of around $30,000, the Legislature's Salaries and Claims Committee was told Thursday.

Under consideration was LB428 which would remove the present $18,000 salary limitation and give the State Health Board the power to set the director's salary.

Board chairman Dr. B. J. Moran of Lincoln said $35,000 should be the "minimum limit," if a ceiling is placed on the salary.

Hiring a physician is essential, he said, and young doctors are making $18,000 a year in their first year of private practice.

The board is seeking a replacement for Health Director Dr. Lynn Thompson, who has resigned effective June 1.

The committee held the bill, as it is holding all state governmental salary measures until they have received a public hearing, which is expected to take until mid-April.

Action also was deferred on LB472, which proposes to raise the attorney general's salary to $30,000 a year, and LB853 which would raise municipal court judges salaries from $15,000 to $25,000 a year.

The committee sent to the floor LB71 which would raise the salaries of Lincoln and Omaha municipal court clerks to $10,000 a year.

Patrol Chief Seeks More Troopers

State Patrol Supt. James E. Kruger asserted Thursday that 200 more troopers are an "absolute necessity" to maintain the Patrol's traffic and law enforcement effectiveness across the state.

Testifying before the Legislature's Budget Committee, Kruger said the present 305-man force is spread too thin over the state's highways and in criminal investigation work.

Kruger said the additional manpower will cost $4.5 million more than the $10.8 million "continuation" budget recommended by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann for the next two years.

Replying to a question by Budget Committee Chairman Richard Marvel, the Patrol chief said Tiemann had recommended no additional troopers, but the request to the committee is "not being critical of the governor's action."

After Kruger was unable to testify on how the additional troopers would be used in relation high accident areas, Marvel requested "specific figures and details" be furnished later to the committee.

Kruger conceded the 35% to 40% across the board increases in Patrol salaries were made during the current biennium, but with the governor's approval.

He said proposed salary scales for the next biennium include 5% annual increases, plus the Patrol's longevity pay plan. Several committee members questioned whether both were needed.

CAP To Resume Search For Plane

Sioux Falls, S.D. (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol in South Dakota plans to resume the search Friday for the missing airplane carrying six persons from Augustana College that was last heard from Jan. 11.

The CAP will concentrate the search in the area between Sioux Falls and Springfield.

If the search is unsuccessful, the Nebraska Aeronautics Department plans to search northern Nebraska the following weekend.

The plane was carrying four Augustana College debate students and two faculty members when it disappeared.

Lower Budget Request For Welfare Revealed

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Acting State Welfare Director Robert McManus Thursday disclosed a "revised" 1969-71 budget request of $112.1 million and reorganizational plans for the department and assistance programs.

Budget highlights were reported by McManus following an executive session with the Legislature's Budget Committee.

McManus said the revision proposes $35.5 million in state funds and $76.6 million in federal money. It is $23 million lower than the department's original request.

McManus, named acting director a month ago by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, said the revised budget has the governor's approval.

McManus said the new request "is not a continuation budget, but a whole new plan for the department based on good management practices."

Under the budget and organizational plan, McManus said, 25 persons would be added to the department's staff of 249 instead of the 172 originally requested.

McManus said the medical assistance program (medicaid) has been pegged at $54.1 million, which is $2.1 million higher than earlier approved by the governor. However, he said the figure is "realistic" within current federal requirements.

The welfare chief also disclosed plans to relocate the department's offices in Lincoln Air Park West's administration building.

He said the $19,500 annual rental figure is less than the department is now paying for outside space, and would consolidate department offices now divided between the State Capitol and a private office building.

He said the move has Tiemann's approval and will be made as quickly as possible.

The welfare chief advised the Budget Committee that a $756,000 "deficit" appropriation is still needed by May 1 to cover a projected medical assistance deficiency through June 30.

Batchelder Says He Is Fighting A Losing Battle To Curb Spending

By JAMES JOYCE
United Press International

State Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha, the Unicameral's self-acknowledged conservative spokesman, says he's fighting a losing battle to keep the lid on state government spending.

Since the 60-year-old businessman was elected to the Legislature in 1964 he's been fighting to keep state government spending at a bare minimum.

But, he said in a recent interview, "it's a losing battle. After four years in active politics I can see no hope of our changing direction from the big spending and big government."

Batchelder said he is opposed to higher spending because it leads to bigger government. And he said he is opposed to larger government because "if we don't stop the growth of big government, in another 10 years we're going to be a Socialist country, just like England."

The Bradford, Vt., native believes the "kind heartedness" of the "average American citizen" is responsible for much of the increase in the size of government.

"Too Kind"

"The American people are too kind-hearted and too willing to come to the aid of everyone who says he needs help," he said. "We have got to learn to take the risk of being called hard-hearted and tell people they have got to learn to take care of themselves.

"We've got to learn to say no."

One result of the increase in the size of government has been a decrease in representative government, the Omaha lawmaker said.

"Government agency lobbies have become so big and powerful that Legislatures can no longer act as free agents," he said. "I strongly feel we have reached the point where legislative bodies can no longer consider bills on their merits."

Again, he lays part of the blame on the people, who he believes "have become apathetic under the avalanche of the lobbyists and the big spenders."

The Omaha lawmaker's philosophy has resulted in considerable criticism from some of his colleagues.

One of them, Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter, recently said "the dollar is his god." At another point Carpenter said Batchelder is the "least responsive member of this body as far as public opinion is concerned."

Batchelder said he feels no "ill will" towards most of his critics.

"This is because I feel strongly about the right of persons to say or do, even if they are controlled by a lobby," he said.

But Batchelder said Carpenter is another matter.

"When Senator Carpenter accuses me of worshipping the dollar, he is just showing his lack of understanding for my attitude and the position we are in," he said. "Carpenter makes a game out of the Legislature and I don't like it because he's playing games with my country."

The Omaha lawmaker also has expressed a strong dislike for what he refers to as "the education lobby."

He said professional educators have "led the way" to increased state spending and blames them for the defeat of a constitutional amendment to abolish the income tax.

Batchelder sees the income tax as another step toward higher state spending and bigger government because it is a "less painful" tax.

Termed Propaganda

"It was sold on the basis of it being a system where somebody else pays everyone's taxes," he said.

Requirements For Circulating Petitions Proposed

By United Press International

A comprehensive measure pinpointing the requirements for circulating referendum and initiative petitions was one of four bills introduced in the Nebraska Legislature Thursday.

If the measure, LB1350, is enacted into law, Statehouse observers said, it would remove many of the "questionable areas of judgment" that forced a lawsuit last year over a petition drive aimed at outlawing the state income tax.

In that suit, the secretary of state had determined that the sponsors of the drive had failed to secure enough valid signatures to place an amendment on the ballot. He had also said the sponsors of the drive had failed to correctly file the required financial statement of contributors and expenditures of the drive.

The case eventually went to the State Supreme Court where the court ruled the drive valid and ordered the proposed amendment placed on the ballot.

Details Given

Under the bill, questionable areas outlined include:

—Signers of petitions must indicate their addresses by street and street number or voting precinct.

—Signers would be required to "personally" affix the date that they signed the peition.

—Signers would be prohibited from using ditto marks.

—Petition sponsors would be required to file a "final" itemized verified financial statements of expenses and contributions within 60 days after the petitions are submitted to the secretary of state.

In addition, the bill would make it a felony for anyone to accept money or other inducements for signing a petiton.

The "express purpose" of the bill would be to "aid and assist the secretary (of state) and the county clerk or election commissioner in deterining the validity of signatures, the electoral qualifications of the signers, and sufficiency of petition, and to prevent fraud, deception and misrepresentation in the circulation and signing of a petition."

Crime Commission

Also introduced was a bill to make the Governor's Crime Commission a statutory state agency known as the "Nebraska Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice."

The commission would have a minimum of 17 members, all but four of whom would be appointed by the governor.

Under the bill, the governor, attorney general, State Patrol superintendent and the head of Nebraska's correctional institutions would automatically be members of the commission.

The other bills introduced Thursday would:

—Authorize the city councils of cities operating under the city manager plan to fix the salaries of its officers and employes.

—Prohibit any unincorporated village from becoming incorporated if it is within five miles of an incorporated city or village.

Sterilization Law Repeal Advanced

By Associated Press

The Legislature Thursday gave 29-2 first round approval to the repeal of Nebraska's 40-year-old sterilization law.

As the law has stood since 1957, certain patients at the Beatrice State Home for the Mentally Retarded are required to submit to sterilization as a pre-requisite to release.

Lincoln Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme, the sponsor of LB547, erasing the law, told colleagues the statute is "extremely discriminatory" since only five per cent of the state's mentally retarded are in the Beatrice State Home.

Furthermore, science has proven that mental retardation is inherited in very rare instances, she said.

The Nebraska law is now before the U.S. Supreme Court on an appeal initiated by a 37-year-old Beatrice Home resident, Mrs. Gloria Cavitt. The Nebraska Supreme Court held the law to be constitutional.

Other bills given first round approval, with votes, were:

LB882, appropriating funds which were not appropriated for the current biennium, including the transfer of $144,000 to cover the excess cost of making 1969 license plates. (32-0)

LB341, reducing from 100 to 50 the minimum number of employes which can be covered in a group insurance policy. (32-0)

LB354, lowering from 14 to 10 the age at which minors may contract for insurance. (28-0)

LB565, prohibiting the Nebraska Penal Complex from holding a lease on agricultural land after March 1, 1972. (25-3)

LB682, permitting those denied food stamp or commodity distribution programs by their counties to receive a hearing. (29-0).

LB435, permitting first class cities to use parking meter revenue to pay off revenue bonds. (30-0)

LB811, removing the requirement that the tax commissioner prepare and submit to the governor and the Legislature a report on tax valuations before each legislative session (32-0)

LB823, creating a State Department of Revenue to assume various functions, including those performed by the tax commissioner (31-0).

LB541, including personal property, including motor vehicles, in the class of property for which exempt status may be sought. (33-0)

Legislative Bills Introduced

By Associated Press

Bills introduced in the Legislature Thursday:

LB1349 (Government Committee)—Prohibiting the incorporation of a proposed village if located within five miles of an existing incorporated municipality.

LB1350 (Government)—Variously revising laws regulating the filing and certification of initiative and referendum petitions.

LB1351 (Government)—Removing salary limitations on officers of cities under the city manager form of government, and authorizing city councils to set the salaries.

LB1352 (For the Governor, by Waldron, Simpson, Carpenter)—Creating the Nebraska Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, and setting out powers and duties.

Grazing Period Resolution Is Adopted

By Associated Press

A resolution calling on the U.S. Department of Agriculture to relax rules and permit winter-besieged Nebraska farmers to make use of corn stalks and roughage from last season was adopted on a 41-0 vote in the Legislature Thursday.

Grazing of roughage fields normally is prohibited after March 31.

Resolution 29, sponsored by Sen. Thomas Kennedy of Newman Grove, urges the Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin to extend the period to May 15.

Sen. Kennedy said the USDA has turned down the request, but that the force of the resolution should induce the USDA to reconsider.

At Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter's suggestion, the Legislature authorized Sen. Kennedy and former Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance, currently serving federal liaison function for the Legislature, to deliver the resolution to Washington and Secretary Hardin in person if that appears advisable.

Kennedy explained that the cover of snow in much of Nebraska has prevented farmers and ranchers from grazing livestock on cornstalk fields and further delay is likely.

He noted the grazing privilege for farmers participating in USDA farm programs will involve no expenditures.

Separate Felony Conviction For Carrying Weapon OK'd

By Associated Press

Carrying a knife, brass knuckles or firearm while committing a felony could subject a person to a double felony conviction under a bill passed 46-0 on final reading in the Legislature Thursday.

Shortly thereafter, the lawmakers reconsidered the action and called the bill back so the emergency clause could be added. Without the emergency clause, the measure would not take effect until three months after adjournment of the session, and the bill's sponsor suggested the measure is important enough to become law the moment it is signed by the governor.

A second final reading will be given the bill later, with the emergency clause added.

The measure, LB602, makes it a separate felony offense to carry a dangerous weapon during the commission of a felony. The weapons charge could bring a prison sentence of three to 10 years, to be served consecutively to any other sentence imposed.

Sen. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice sponsored the bill, with Sens. Harold D. Simpson of Lincoln, Herb Nore of Genoa, Edward R. Danner, William R. Skarda Jr. and Bill K. Bloom of Omaha as co-sponsors.

Also passed Thursday were bills which would (E-emergency clause):

LB328 (Swanson, Holmquist) — Increase limits on investment stock which an investor may hold in a building and loan association. 40-0.

LB417 (Orme) — Authorize use of unmarked state cars by girls' training school, vocational rehabilitation counselors, and State Health Department's communicable disease control personnel. (E). 46-0.

LB556 (Carstens, Luedtke, Simpson, Klaver) — Revise penalties for motor vehicle homicide to permit misdemeanor prosecutions instead of felony prosecutions in some instances. (E) 46-0.

Conflict-Of-Interest Measure Amended

The Legislature Thursday amended its conflice-of-interest bill to clear the way for citizens to make legitimate complaints of alleged conflict.

Lawmakers approved, without dissent, an amendment which provides that accusers would be charged with a misdemeanor only if they "knowingly present false information" or make repeated false charges.

Earlier, the Legislature had amended the bill, LB75, to apply the misdemeanor charge against any citizen who made a false charge of conflict.

Opponents of that proposal contended that it would render the bill inoperative, since citizens would be required either to prove their charge or face imprisonment of three to six months.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine, who won approval of the earlier provision, offered Thursday's softening amendment.

LB75 was then advanced from select file on its way to final reading.

3 Persons Killed In Aerial Crash

Kansas City, Kan. (AP)— Three persons were killed and one critically injured in the collision of a helicopter and small airplane in northern Kansas City, Kan.

Police reported the light plane from the Smith Flying Service at Gardner, Kan., and the helicopter from Leaman Flying Service at the Fairfax Airport collided aloft and crashed into a residential area at 7th Street and Quindaro Boulevard.

Witnesses said two persons in the helicopter and a man aboard the small plane were killed.

Oil Leak Halted In Gulf Of Mexico

New Orleans (UPI) — Mobil Oil Co. said that its leaking oil well 18 miles off the Louisiana coast in the Gulf of Mexico had been capped. The leak had poured an estimated 100,000 gallons of yellow crude oil on the waters of the gulf.

The Coast Guard said that the five-by 10-mile slick created by the crude oil since Sunday night "should not present a problem."

The Coast Guard said that the nearest oil, five miles from shore, was expected to dissipate within 48 hours without endangering shrimping grounds and oyster beds.

Killing Of Tax-Exempt Property Bill To Be Reviewed

By Associated Press

Nebraska's Legislature was asked Thursday to reconsider its action Wednesday in killing a bill which would have required taxing officials to place a dollar value on tax-exempt properties located throughout the state.

Discussion and a vote were deferred to Monday.

The bill, Sen. Terry Carpenter's LB26, was killed on a 25-20 vote Wednesday.

Sen. Orval A. Keyes of Papillion proposed Thursday that the body reconsider the action and apply to the bill an amendment which would exclude from the bill's requirements "real property owned and used exclusively for religious purposes."

Keyes said he could not support the bill if it required placing a dollar value on church sanctuaries, but would approve the bill if it covered other tax-exempt groups.

Carpenter has urged passage of LB26 so Nebraskans can learn, for the first time, the value of property over the state which is omitted from tax rolls under tax exemptions allowed by law. The bill would not place these properties on the tax rolls, but Carpenter acknowledged that the information could eventually lead Nebraska to begin taxing such property.

1½% Interest Rate Differential Asked By Sen. Carpenter

By Associated Press

Sen. Terry Carpenter complained Thursday that some banks have increased their prime interest rates to borrowers without making comparable increases in the interest paid depositors.

The Scottsbluff lawmaker proposed a differential of 1½% between the prime interest rate charge by financial institutions, and the interest paid on deposits.

The Legislature was asked to involve itself by adopting a resolution, No. 30, in which Carpenter notes that banks are charging a prime interest rate of 7½%.

Action on the resolution was deferred under rules requiring a one-day layover on resolutions.

The resolution urges Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann to request the state banking director to require all state banks to maintain the 1½% differential.

SAFEGUARDING YOUR TEEN-AGER AGAINST DRUGS . . .

'Hooked' Youth Needs Outsider

(Editor's Note: This is the ninth in a series by a prize-winning science writer who provides parents with background on the narcotics and drug situation and suggests ways for them to help guard their children against its ill effects.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press
Science Writer

If youngsters do become "hooked" or dependent upon mind-influencing drugs, what then?

By that time, authorities advise, the problem is usually beyond the parents' ability to handle it alone.

"Some kind of expert counseling is called for," says Dr. Kenneth Keniston of Yale University. It could be a family friend, a school counselor, a minister, a physician, not necessarily a psychologist or psychiatrist.

"Don't regard it as a sign of moral corruption, but rather as something being wrong in their lives," he adds.

Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth of Harvard suggests telling them that "you will not condone what they are doing, but that you will help them all you can, and stand by them."

Needed Help

A college counselor adds: In interviews with college youths using drugs in a self-destructive way, "it was impressive how often drugs had been 'used' to inform parents, teachers and others that the individual desperately needed help."

The young tend to copy the ideas, values, beliefs — and also prejudices — of parents, and so parents should set good examples to follow.

John Finlator, associate director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, remarks: "It's difficult for adults to answer the young person who says, "I don't know why people get excited when I use drugs — my old man's been hung up on martinis for years."

Many adults have "made their peace" with alcohol and tobacco and tranquilizing drugs, but give a flat "No" to any experimentation with marijuana or fail to give cogent reasons for youths not to try it, another points out. This seems unreasonable to many young people.

Won't Make Points

Parents are not likely to make big points with their children if they simply say, "Wait till you've been through what I've been through in life — then you'll understand." That, says one physician, isn't going to be a very impressive argument if it seems to the youngsters that the parents' lives, jobs or marriages are somewhat miserable.

"Give kids a healthy pattern to follow, and start it early," a psychiatrist suggests. "When and if it ever comes to a real debate over whether a child has a right to do something, it is usually too late."

In the long run, says Dr. Keniston, "those of us who are critical of student drug abuse must demonstrate to our students that there are better and more lasting ways to experience the fullness, the depth, the variety and the richness of life than that of ingesting psychoactive chemicals."

Last presidential election year, with many young people actively campaigning for candidates of their choice, raised the question whether interest in national campaigns or other issues might replace pot and pills, suggests Dr. Donald B. Louria of New York City.

The point, he says, is that "if you want to cure the drug problem, the name of the game is commitment" to something else.

Education Efforts

Actions to spread education about drugs are sprouting across the country.

"The drug abuse problem concerns all of us; it is national in scope," says Finlator. "But it is not a national problem so much as it is a local problem, in the community, in the school and in the home. Here is the place where education has to be done."

"It would be best," he adds, "if our schools developed programs teaching respect for drugs in general, or in particular. But if a high school, for example, suddenly puts on a program on drug abuse only, youngsters will laugh at it. The idea of respect for drugs should be developed in courses or classes in general health education."

In many scores and perhaps hundreds of communities, there are increasing efforts to spread information about dangerous drugs. The pattern varies broadly.

In some places, parents organize special school courses, or one-day assemblies. Elsewhere, school personnel take the initiative.

Community organizations and service clubs sponsor other efforts.

Numerous colleges and universities are initiating special educational programs about mind-influencing drugs, and other drugs.

Repeatedly, people who have abused dangerous drugs make one significant point:

They say they might not have become involved if they had had factual knowledge beforehand, particularly when curiosity and thrill-seeking were the main motives for taking such drugs in the first place.

Guaranteed To Happen

Grand Island—Guaranteed to happen during the Nebraska horse racing season that gets under way here today:

Some disgruntled bettor will yell at a losing jockey, "A girl could ride better than you."

Some disgruntled lady bettor will stand and shout at a losing jockey, "I could ride better than you," then proceed to prove she'd be better off on a horse than in her car as she backs into someone with her car while leaving the track.

There will be one day at Grand Island so cold that if the horses had a vote, they wouldn't run, but the bettors will still show up in huge numbers.

Every day, some gal who doesn't know a Racing Form from a cook book will pick more winners than any seasoned handicapper and she'll do it using the hunch-color-name association method.

Bettors will become much more critical at the Lincoln track after the Fonner and Ak-Sar-Ben dates and most of it will subcounsciously have to do with the fact that the only beverage he can find at the Linncoln track is soda pop and water.

Ecoffey Gets Money

More tickets will be cashed on Fred Ecoffey-riddenhorses than on any other jockey.

Still someone will shout, "Fred, you're a bum," when he fails to win the seventh race after winning four of the first six.

Someone with a $20 bill in his hand will get shut out at the $5 win window, then will watch with no pari-mutuel ticket in his hand as the horse he was going to bet on comes in and pays $7.60.

A seller will punch a wrong ticket and be stuck with it on a horse that will come in and pay $66.20 to win.

Some lady, who has bought 1,918 daily double tickets over the past several years, finally will hit one that pays $386 and she'll exclaim to all her friends how she beat the races.

A Constant Loser

Aunt Priscilla will be a loser for the umpteenth year in a row.

There will be more press passes in the hands of bartenders and truck drivers from all tracks except Ak-Sar-Ben than will be in the hands of the working sports writers.

On every race every day, there will be at least 39 different people with sure tips they got from 39 different trainers, owners and jockeys.

On every race every day, there will be at least 38 people with sure tips, who will throw their pari-mutuel ticket away after the race.

By the time the middle of September comes everyone will be tired of horse racing and the ones who will be most tired of it will be the horses.

The State of Nebraska will make more money off horse racing without investing a cent than the tracks, owners, trainers, jockeys or any of the others who must invest a lot of money to make a little money.

IT'S UCLA AGAINST PURDUE

...Drake Nearly Ambushes Bruins

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Defending champion UCLA, pushed to the limit by upstart Drake, fought off the Bulldogs 85-82 Thursday night and moved to within one step of a record third consecutive national collegiate basketball title.

UCLA will play Purdue, 92-65 victor over North Carolina in the first game of the semifinal doubleheader, in the NCAA championship game Saturday afternoon.

Drake, a 13-point underdog spotted UCLA an early 11-2 advantage, then rebounded to make a game of it.

The Bulldogs, who had to survive a playoff for the Missouri Valley Conference title, finally caught UCLA at 37-37 just before halftime intermission and fought the Bruins on equal terms for the first 10 minutes of the second half.

Drake had two brief leads, at 43-42 and 45-44, and had the game tied four times — the last at 59-59.

John Vallely of the Bruins broke that with a driving layup and the dead-game Bulldogs had had their last look-in.

Leading 69-66, UCLA reeled off a string of nine consecutive points — seven of them by Vallely — established a 78-66 margin and held on from there although Drake pulled to within one point with 10 seconds left.

Vallely, a 6-foot-2 backcourt man, led UCLA's scoring with 29 points and 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor added 25. Willie McCarter topped hard-running Drake with 24.

Drake, ranked No. 11 nationally, was dead-game all the way. The Bulldogs refused to wilt when UCLA spurted to its 12-point lead with about four minutes to go, and came charging back. McCarter hits two quick baskets and Willie Wise added another before UCLA could put together a field goal and a free throw.

McCarter and Lynn Shackelford traded baskets and UCLA's lead was cut to nine, at 83-74, with time running out.

But still, the fantastic Bulldogs stayed alive. Wise put in a shot from the corner, McCarter hit two more baskets and the lead was down to three, 83-80. The Bulldogs then gained possession with 18 seconds to play.

Dolph Pulliam broke through on a fast break and the margin was one point with less than 10 seconds left.

UCLA put the ball in play and Shackelford, fouled at the buzzer, clamly dropped in two free throws while his teammates filed off the court.

The Bruins opened up with every indication they were going to make a rout of it.

They ran off seven consecutive points before Pulliam broke through on a fast break with the game 2½ minutes old. Vallely and Curtis Rowe added four more points for the Bruins before Drake called for time with 15:43 remaining.

Drake, obviously nervous and possibly intimidated by the towering Alcindor, hit only one of its first 10 shots while UCLA connected on five of six.

The Bulldogs started back very slowly, then ran off six consecutive points to close within four at 29-25. The next nine points all were free throws in the rough and ragged contest. Then McCarter and Alcindor traded baskets.

Drake scored seven consecutive points, four by Gary Zeller, for a 37-37 tie. UCLA pulled ahead 41-39 at halftime but couldn't shake off the persistent Bulldogs.

The game was extremely fast and very rough, with a total of 51 fouls called, 30 against Drake.

Top-ranked UCLA now has a 28-1 record while Drake is 25-5.

Rick Mount gunned in 36 points in leading the swift Boilermakers past stunned North Carolina.

Purdue used two scoring bursts to overwhelm fourth-ranked North Carolina — the first spree breaking a tie and the second putting it out of reach.

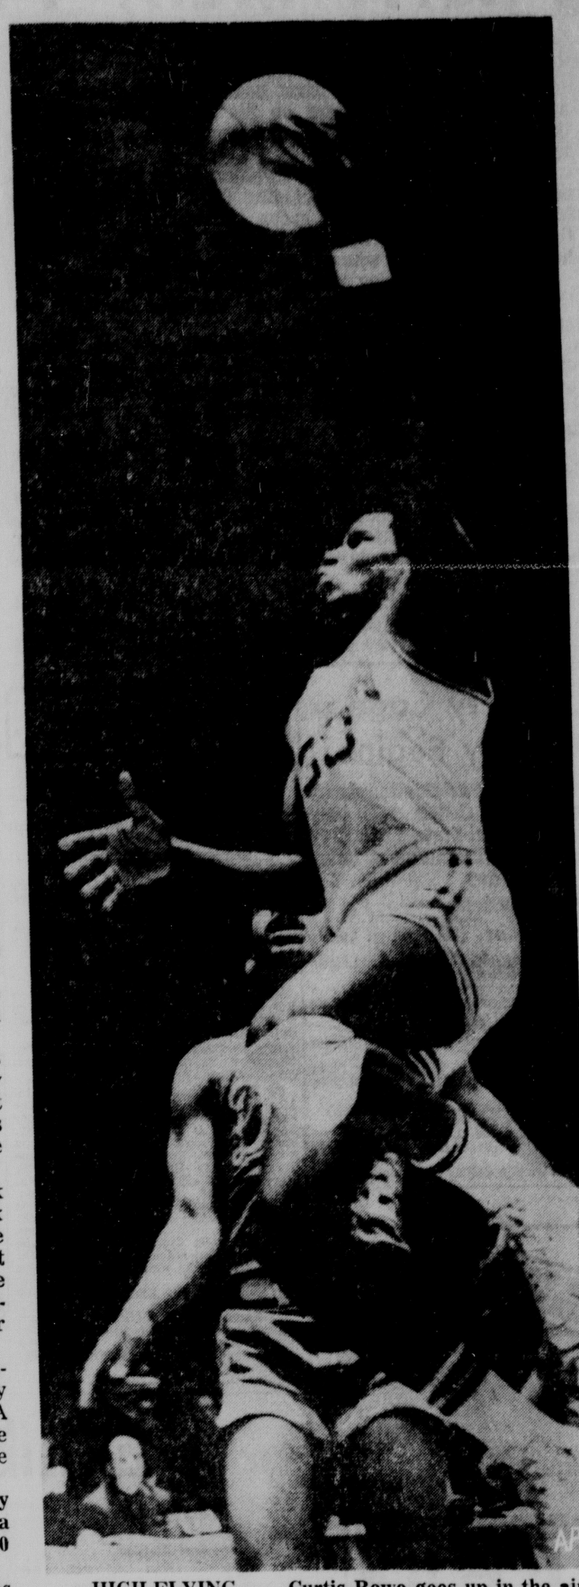

Little Bill Keller broke an early tie with a rebound basket, establishing a 9-7 margin for the sixth-ranked Boilermakers. Purdue proceeded to outscore North Carolina 17-9 and never trailed again.

Dale Haase Repeats On 'C' Dream Club

. . . HEBRON ACE HEADS ALL-STATERS

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Hebron's Dale Haase, an all-stater a year ago, returns to anchor an all-senior quintet which forms the 1969 Lincoln Star Class C all-state high school basketball team.

The mythical five would feature the 6-5, 200-pounder at center, with rugged rebounding and top scoring at the forward posts with a pair of 6-2 Dave's. Wausa's Dave Holmquist would be teamed with Dave Hahn of Elkhorn St. John along the front line.

The two guards both possess ball-hawking defensive abilities, combined with excellent outside shooting and ball handling skills. They are Dan Vontz, who helped lead Hastings St. Cecilia to the division's state championship, and Steve Knippelmeyer, who was instrumental in Johnson-Brock recording 20 straight victories before losing in the regional playoffs.

Haase tallied 471 points during his senior year, despite missing all of two games and the majority of three others with a dislocated toe suffered late in the campaign.

He connected on 55 per cent of his field goal attempts while averaging 22 points a game, including the partial appearances in those three contests.

An all-state football end, Haase picked off 279 rebounds and was the team's assist leader. He had a high single game point production of 41 against Superior and totaled 1,316 points during his three-year career.

Holmquist, an honor roll all-stater in football, averaged 21 points a game, but coach Dale Buller says, "the figure is misleading because David seldom played more than half the game."

Wausa, scoring over 100 points in seven of its games, usually was so far ahead that Holmquist was on the bench as the reserves played.

"The important figure, I think," Buller added, "is the fact that for the whole season he hit an amazing 69 per cent of his shots from the field."

Hahn would pose another potent scoring threat should this quintet take the floor together. He compiled a 22 point-per-game average.

Ballot after ballot from his area carried coaches' comments of, "the best in the area," and a sure all-stater."

The big front line could be assured plenty of help from the backcourt pair. Vontz demonstrated this during the state tournament, feeding teammate Dennis Pavelka, who also nearly joined the select five, time and again.

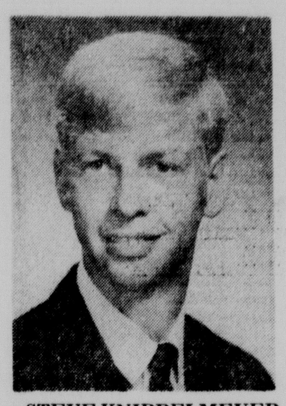

Despite his unselfish team play, Vontz scored 16, 22 and 21 points in his three state tourney games, after averaging 17 per contest throughout the regular season.

Another fine defensive and offensive playmaker is running mate Knippelmeyer. The smallest at 5-9, Steve has been a three-year starter. His teams won 49 while losing but 12 games over the span.

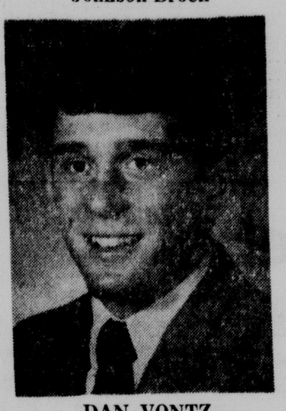

The quick-handed Knippelmeyer stole the ball on defense 65 times this season, and according to coach Mike Leahy "led our team by directing the fast break and came up with 102 direct assists during the year."

Ten other outstanding Class C performers were within a few votes of making the all-state team, while the others on the Honor Roll list were close enough to deserve special recognition.

Grant's John Mathes, Doug Kubik of Cambridge and Craig Buntemeyer of Deshler were the closest in the poll to the five leaders, while Jack Cerny of Osceola, Wausa's John Olson, Pat Elwood of Creighton, Roland Kramer from Elkhorn St. John, Larry Krueger of Blue Hill and Elkhorn's Lynn Spilman joined Pavelka as the others most nearly crashing the select group.

-SEASON OPENS TODAY-

Fonner Faithful Watch Clouds

Grand Island — Probably the only thing they'll be studying as hard as past performances in the next few days at Fonner Park will be weather maps.

Spring isn't guaranteed to arrive March 20, but Nebraska's horse racing season is a day later. Fonner's Friday opening marks the earliest start in history for the thoroughbreds in Nebraska.

Despite a rather wet winter prospects are for an excellent opening weekend. A break in the weather and some long hours in conditioning the track should provide a fast strip for opening day.

"The track looked 100 per cent better Wednesday," says racing secretary Dean Williams.

Mid-week arrival of a large percentage of the stock has kept Fonner officials busy, but general manager Al Swihart and Williams look for an excellent start should the weatherman keep smiling.

Friday's Inaugural Handicap, and Saturday's Jake Grasmick Memorial Handicap head the opening weekend card.

Bobby Dorene, winner of the 1968 Fonner Juvenile Stakes and a total of $4,830 in two starts here last year, heads the entries for the Inaugural Handicap.

Most of the competition is expected to be provided by Stings Jet, top weighted at 120 pounds. Kem Jr., winner of stakes at Ak-Sar-Ben and Columbus last year, is also well regarded.

Three entries needing a break to crack the Inaugural lineup are Jeanie Kem, Mighty Classy and Mr. Solid from the also-eligible list.

Jeanie Kem won a division of the Ak-Sar-Ben Lassie Stakes a year ago. Mighty Classy has four wins in six career starts and Mr. Solid already owns a win over Stings Jet at Sunland this year.

Paul Kemling's Bold Accent, winner of the Nebraska Derby and Fonner Park Special Stakes en route to a $7,205 haul here in 1968, heads the anticipated cast of contenders for the Grasmick sprint, a four furlong chase.

Bob Lee, last year's leading trainer, and E. J. Payne, the top conditioner in 1967 and third-ranked last year, resume their rivalry as the 1969 meeting opens.

Returning to defend his riding championship is Fred Ecoffey, who had a career high of 191 wins on the Nebraska circuit last year.

The 29-day meeting features racing Tuesday through Saturday. The only exceptions will be no racing Friday, April 4 (Good Friday) and racing on Monday, April 28.

Post time will again be at 3 p.m. on weekdays and 2 p.m. Saturdays.

Official statistics, released Thursday, confirmed the 1964 Olympic sprint king was No. 1 in punt returns for 1968 with an average of 20.8. He ran back 12 for 312 yards and two touchdowns. The two touchdowns also were tops.

Orr, Hull Set NHL Records

Boston (AP) — Boston defenseman Bobby Orr and Chicago star Bobby Hull swapped record-breaking last-minute goals Thursday night in a fight-filled National Hockey League tie, which ended at 5-5 when Orr scored his 21st goal with one second left.

Hull notched his 54th and 55th goals of the season while the Bruins were short-handed late in the third period, surpassing his old mark of 54 goals set in the 1965-1966 season.

It was Orr's 21st birthday and his last-second goal topped the record for defensemen of 20 goals in one season set 25 years ago by Detroit's Flash Hollett.

Wins Haight Award

Washington (AP) — Johnny Nerud, trainer and part owner of Dr. Fager, was named Thursday by the National Turf Writers Association as the winner of the Walter Haight Award for the outstanding training achievement of 1968.

Boston College Conquers Army

. . . NIT SEMIFINALS

New York (AP) — Favored Boston College, bidding its time, beat Army at its own game and pulled away from the Cadets to a 73-61 victory Thursday night in the semifinals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Temple ran off 10 straight points behind Joe Cromer and John Baum late in the second half and upended favored Tennessee 63-58 in the other semifinal game.

Temple, which won the first NIT in 1938 in its only appearance in the final, and has been frustrated in six other trips to New York, and BC, reaching the final for the first time in three tries, meet for the championship Saturday afternoon on national television. Tennessee and Army will play for third place.

With Bobby Croft and Rudy Kinard of Tennessee waging a scoring duel against Cromer and teammate Eddie Mast, Tennessee pulled ahead 49-44 after nine lead changes in the see-saw second half.

Then Cromer hit for five straight points for a 49-all tie, Bill Strunk put the Owls ahead and Baum completed the string with another five for a 54-49 spread with 1:45 remaining.

The Eagles, extending the longest current winning streak in the country to 19 in a 24-3 season, remained patient while Army used a 66.7 shooting percentage, ball control and its top defense in the nation to take a 29-26 halftime lead.

Husker '9' Wins, 10-2

Houston (AP) — Nebraska used extra base hits to power its way to a 10-2 college baseball victory over the University of Houston Thursday.

A two-run home run in the first inning by first baseman Ron Johnette gave Nebraska its early lead off Houston starter Bubba Hill. Tom Tidball added a solo home run in the third that was followed by a Cougar error and a single by Bob Griego for two more Nebraska runs.

A double by Adrian Fiala and singles by Denis Beckmann and Paul Marek accounted for two more Nebraska runs in the sixth inning. The Cornhuskers took advantage of Cougar relief pitcher James Richardson's wildness and a double by Tidball for four more runs in the eighth inning.

Houston's only two runs came on a triple by Richard Schwartz and a sacrifice fly by Larry Taylor in the third and a walk by Phil Rose followed by a triple by Rod Johnson in the fifth.

Wesleyan Returns 15 Track Lettermen; Prospects Good

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

Nebraska Wesleyan track coach Woody Greeno may not have any super stars on his squad this year, but there's no reason to believe he won't field a respectable team.

Greeno has 15 lettermen on hand, along with a handful of promising freshmen, including 6-6¼ high jumper Dan McCauley. The freshman group should more than offset the departure of graduated sprinter Scott Hayman and hurdler Larry Ross, who will not compete this year.

While the weather man has not been very cooperative this winter, the Plainsmen have managed to work out anyway.

"We really just got started Monday on our serious outdoor workouts," Greeno said. "But we've been running on county roads and a few times on the Nebraska indoor track. In fact, the distance men have been running since late January."

Greeno said if the weather is nice, he'll have the NWU track in shape for use by next week.

The Plainsmen have one indoor meet under their belts already and are headed for the Kansas State Indoor Invitational Meet at Manhattan, Kan., this Saturday. Their home opener is Saturday, March 29 against South Dakota University.

Wesleyan may be strongest in the field where several steady veterans are joined by some promising yearlings.

Lettermen Harvey Meyer and Lanny Hall give NWU two of the area's better javelin men, both having surpassed the 195-foot mark last year.

Roger Sand, a :09.8 100-yard dash man, doubles in the pole vault and has gone over 14 feet.

In the discus Kent Swanson has thrown in the 150-foot range, while Alliance freshman Howard Wigert is expected to help out in the broad jump.

Greeno has righ hopes for Wigert in the broad jump and the quarter mile, although the Alliance youngster has not seen much competition for nearly two years. He sat out last season with an injury, but Greeno says he clocked :50.4 in the 440 during his junior year in high school. Greeno feels he can be a 22-foot broad jumper, too.

McCauley, a Lincoln High product, high jumped 6-6¼ as a prep last year, setting an all-time best for Nebraska high school competition.

Last month the 6-5 Lincoln youngster went 6-4 to win the event in a triangular indoor meet against Omaha and Peru. "I didn't let him try to go higher," said Greeno, "since he hadn't been working out seriously yet." At the time McCauley was still busy with basketball as a member of the NWU freshman team.

On the track Wesleyan has a steady middle distance man in David City junior Jack McVay. The quarter mile troops are bolstered by veteran Jim Watt, along with Wigert and East High grad Bob Rutledge, a freshman.

Sand leads the sprint corps and is joined by Dale Clark, a John F. Kennedy transfer with 10 flat speed.

NFL Rejects AFL Realignment Plan

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP) — The American Football League, its owners probably more unified than at any time in its nine-year history, proposed a realignment of pro football into two leagues, each with divisions of seven and six teams Thursday, but the Natonal League rejected it for two reasons.

While the owners were still in session after more than seven hours with only a lunch break, Commissioner Pete Rozelle emerged long enough to tell of the continuing negotiations between the leagues.

The AFL, he said, offered a specific plan which would create four new divisions, two with seven teams and two with six.

The NFL owners, however, turned it down because the numerical groupings were too large — they prefer four or five-team divisions — and are committed to the concept of home-and-home competition between teams in the same division.

"The owners then started working on smaller numerical groupings in separate sessions," Rozelle said.

Most likely smaller groupings in a complete realignment would be two four-team divisions and one five-team group in each of two conferences. Rozelle said, however, that the NFL "hasn't accepted any other philosophy" than the 16-10 plan that was recommended unanimously by the joint study Monday on the first day of the winter meetings.

That plan calls for maintaining the 16-team NFL and the 10-team AFL, plus adding an unspecified number of interleague games.

Who gives you the 80 hp with a 55-hp appetite?

We do.

If you'd like to take an extra skier in tow without taking an extra can of gas on board, you've got to see our new 80-hp Mercury. No other outboard ever packed so much performance—such amazing fuel economy—into so small a package. Our new 80 hp is no larger than a competitive 55 hp—and it uses no more fuel than a competitive 55—at equal boat speeds!

The secret? Revolutionary new Direct Charging—a Mercury exclusive. With Direct Charging, the unique transfer passage, port and piston design pinpoints the path of the incoming charge for precisely controlled exhaust scavenging and cylinder charging under all operating conditions. Coupled with Mercury's Breakerless Thunderbolt ignition, it produces more complete removal of burned gases for more horsepower per cubic inch—more miles per gallon.

New 80-hp Mercury with Direct Charging—any other outboard in its class just isn't in its class! Come in and let us prove it.

Why we don't call the Volkswagen on the left the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

Just because the Volkswagen on the left looks like a station wagon, some people have concluded it actually is the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

How rash.

Its storage capacity is much too modest. (Even with its seats folded down it's just 42 cu. ft.)

Its seating capacity is much too conventional. (4 passengers is nothing to write home about.)

And the size of that door in the back is much too commonplace. (A mere 42.7" by 25.4".)

But unstartling as these features are in a station wagon, they're very startling in a sedan. And that's exactly what this squared-off car on the left is. A regular sedan for people who irregularly need a little station wagon.

We call it the Volkswagen Squareback.

Now look at the monster on the right. Its loading capacity is an incredible 176 cu. ft. It can seat up to nine—yes, nine—very tall passengers. And it doesn't content itself with just having a door in the back. It also has a kind of sliding side gate that measures an awesome 3½' by 4'.

Now that's what we call a station wagon.

Host Iowa State Team Big 8 Gym Favorite

Ames, Iowa — Iowa State, on the basis of dual-meet performances, will be the favorite to cop its fourth Big Eight Conference gymnastics championship in six years this weekend as it hosts the league's annual meet Friday and Saturday.

Going into the meet, Cyclone entries hold the individual lead in three events and have a team-point average of over 161, almost eight better than second-ranked Kansas. The team title will be settled on Friday, when all the events will be contested. This competition will also determine the finalists for Saturday's runoff for the individual titles.

Top man for the Cyclones is Ward Maythaler, the defending champion in the still rings. Maythaler goes into the meet with a lofty 9.36 average in his top event.

Also on top for the Iowa Staters is Russ Hoffman on the side horse (8.94), where the defending champion is Colorado's returning Pat Edwards, who ranks third (8.83). Turning up second is another Cyclone, Doug Peak (8.88).

The third top spot for Iowa State is held by Brent Simmons, who shows a 9.24 in parallel bars. Last year's runnerup, Colorado's Eric Singer, is fifth (8.88). Holding second in the event is Iowa State's Dennis Mazur (9.18). Simmons and the Cyclones' Dave Butzman also ranks high in the all-around competition.

It is in this area — total scores in all events — where Oklahoma's Tom Sexton, the defending titlist on the high bar, ranks on top. Sexton has a 50.73 average, topping Kansas State's Ken Snow (50.62) by a slim margin. Sexton also goes into the meet at the head of the horizontal bar list.

RAY WESTOVER

Westover Takes Jobs At Waverly

Ray Westover, who recently resigned after nine years as football coach at Nebraska Wesleyan, has been hired as football coach and athletic director at Waverly High School.

Waverly superintendent Dr. C. E. Seevers terms the athletic director's post a newly created position for the rapidly growing Class B school.

Five years ago Waverly was a Class C school with a student body of 170. Now it has a high school enrolment of 337.

"They feel the only way they're going is up," notes Westover.

"I think it's a good opportunity. They're good people to work with," he says, of the Waverly school officials.

"I like to coach and like the challenge of coaching. I wasn't ready to quit," he said.

Westover spent 11 years in the prep ranks, 10 in Nebraska schools, before taking the Nebraska Wesleyan post. His earlier Nebraska stops were at Bassett, Crete and Lexington.

LCC To Host Qualifying For 4 Meets

The Lincoln Country Club will be the site of local qualifying for four major golf tournaments this summer.

LCC will host qualifying for the U.S. Open on May 19, the USGA Juniors on July 15, the National Amateur on Aug. 12 and the USGA Seniors on Sept. 3.

For the first time this year, seniors will be allowed to use carts both in the 18-hole qualifying round and in the tourney itself set for the Wichita Country Club Sept. 15-20.

Because Lincoln also is close to the tourney proper, more than the usual number of qualifying spots likely will be allocated to the Lincoln qualifying site.

The U.S. Open is set for the Champions Golf Club in Houston, June 12-15; the USGA Juniors at Spokane, Wash., July 29-Aug. 2; and the National Amateur at Oakmont, Pa., Aug. 27-30.

Entry blanks for all four events are available at most golf course pro shops.

Paunchy Lionel Leads

. . . JACKSONVILLE GOLF TOURNEY

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP) — Lionel Hebert, 41, paunchy, and recovering from arm ailments that threatened to knock him off the tour, fired an almost flawless five-under-par 67 Thursday for the opening round lead in the $100,000 Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

His position wasn't comfortable.

Eighteen players were within two shots of him — seven a stroke back at 68 and eleven two shots off the pace at 69, one of them Lionel's older brother, Jay, 44, playing with calcium chips in his shoulder big as a half dollar. Also in the 69 group were Lee Trevino, the wisecracking U.S. Open champion, and always formidable Jack Nicklaus.

Spurred by the brightest weather of the winter tour — sunshine, temperature in the 70s and little wind — half a hundred players cracked the 72 par of the 7,221-yard Deerfield course, a relatively flat layout spotted with lakes and short-cut doglegs.

Beatle John Weds Yoko In Gibraltar

Gibraltar (AP) — Beatle John Lennon and Japanese sculptress Yoko Ono, both dressed in white and wearing tennis shoes, were married on the Rock of Gibraltar Thursday.

Then they flew off to Paris in the jet Lennon chartered for $2,400 in hopes of getting lost for a quiet honeymoon. The couple have been living together for months.

The 28-year-old Beatle carried a coat made of human hair but wore a white jacket, white sweater and baggy pants for the ceremony in Gilbraltar's register office. The bride, 34, wore a white minidress and a white floppy hat.

Both wore the canvas tennis shoes because they oppose the slaughter of animals for their hides.

S.F. State Strike Is Settled

San Francisco (UPI) — The long and often violent San Francisco State student strike, which had died down in recent weeks to occasional vandalism, was settled Thursday.

Acting President S. I. Hayakawa called a news conference for Friday to make a position statement "based on resolution of student problems."

Student strike leaders Benny Stewart and Jerry Varnardo told an impromptu rally in the student commons a settlement had been reached in the four-month class boycott.

They said an agreement on amnesty, a major stumbling block, would be signed. The students said the settlement called for suspensions of some dissidents, but no expulsions.

Student leaders said they won all of their demands. Attorney Frank Brann and Bishop Mark Hurley, who led a citizens' effort to mediate the dispute, called the pact a "monumental agreement." Brann said it will "provide a model for colleges around the country."

The administration announcement came one day after Hayakawa met for two hours with four leaders of the striking Black Students Union and nine representatives of the city's Negro community.

The strike began last Nov. 6 when the BSU boycotted classes to back 10 "non-negotiable" demands, most of them concerned with black studies and enrollment programs. The Third World Liberation Front issued five more demands a few days later.

Sen. Russell Feels He Has Lung Cancer

Washington (AP) — Richard B. Russell of Georgia, a commanding figure in the Senate where he has spent more than half his life, said Thursday he thinks he has lung cancer.

His doctors will immediately begin bombarding his newly discovered lung tumor with cobalt rays.

But Russell, 71, said he will go right on working after a few days off. He'll undergo the cobalt therapy a few minutes a day on an out-patient basis.

A Democratic senator since 1933, Russell is the Senate's dean, its president pro tempore, the chairman of its Appropriations Committee, and the man its leaders consult unfailingly before doing anything important.

He quit smoking 10 years ago but suffers from emphysema.

Pilgrims' Plane Crashes; 92 Die

Cairo (UPI) — A Russian-built turboprop airliner carrying home Arab worshippers who won a pilgrimage to Mecca in a national lottery crashed and burned Thursday at Aswan airport. At least 92 of the 104 persons aboard were killed.

The Egyptian interior ministry said the four-engine, Ilyushin 18 turboprop, delivered to United Arab Airlines only two weeks ago, wobbled out of control as it approached the runway, and its wingtip dug into the ground. The airliner tipped over, smashed into the ground and exploded.

Strike Over; American Airlines Flying Again

New York (AP) — American Airlines resumed flight operations Thursday after a 21-day strike by ground service employes.

The workers voted overwhelmingly Wednesday to accept a new contract providing hourly wage increases of 25.5% for line mechanics.

American is the nation's second largest domestic airline.

During the strike by 12,700 Transportation Workers Union members, the line's 225 jet airplanes were maintained by supervisory and management personnel.

The settlement was announced by Matthew Guinan, international president of the AFL-CIO union, who said it gave American employes "the best wages, pensions, medical insurance protection and job security in the airline industry."

Under the pact, which runs until Feb. 28, 1971, line mechanics' wages will increase from the present $4.16 to $5.21 in the final period of the contract. With added increments for longevity and other factors, some mechanics will receive $5.69.

Lard Exports Up

Boston — U.S. exports of lard reached 185.6 million pounds last year, up 20% from 1966. Tallow exports, at 2.2 billion pounds, were 13% higher.

Stock Market's Rally Continues

New York (AP) — The stock market turned in another winning performance Thursday — its third straight.

The Dow Jones industrial average took off from the start, and by the close it had collected 1.02 points to finish at 920.13. After posting a tiny loss Monday, the Dow has been moving upward, collecting 3.35 points Tuesday and another 4.73 points Wednesday.

Gains grabbed an early advantage over losses and stayed well ahead throughout the day. Of 1,545 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 844 advanced and 476 declined.

New highs for 1968-69 totaled 14 and new lows 25.

The rally was fueled in part by the good performance the market had turned in the previous two days, according to brokers, as well as by reports earlier this week that secret cease-fire talks in the Vietnam war were under way.

Volume was 10.25 million shares, compared with 9.74 million shares Wednesday. Blocks of 10,000 shares or more totaled 46, the same as Wednesday.

The Associatd Press average of 60 stocks was up 1.7 at 335.7, with industrials up 4.3, rails up .8, and utilities off .7.

Gold issues were mixed. Steels, apparently getting a boost from the gain in factory durable-goods orders in February, generally were higher.

Motors were higher. The auto industry is reported to be planning slightly higher output this week.

Aircrafts and electronics issues were mixed. Utilities generally were higher.

Thirteen of the 20 most-active stocks on the New York Exchange gained, 4 were lower, and 3 were unchanged.

Amerind, most-active on 189,000 shares, was off ⅝ at 117⅝.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Twelve of the 20 most-active issues advanced, 6 declined, and 2 were unchanged.

Volume was 4.61 million shares, compared with 3.88 million Wednesday.

Hog Prices Are Steady At Omaha

Omaha (AP) — Butcher hogs were steady for most of the session Thursday.

Locally, steers and heifers were ruled fully steady in active trading.

A load of high-choice and prime 1,185 lb. black steers commanded $31.50, the best ticket here since September, 1962.

Missing Omahan On West Coast

Omaha (AP) — Paul Decker said Thursday that his father, Omaha developer Donald S. Decker, "is presently located on the west coast where he has been joined by his wife."

In a written statement the son said his father "had suffered a nervous breakdown but has now been found."

Young Decker said he would not elaborate, on the advice of his attorney. He added that the statement Thursday was "an effort to eliminate the many and varied rumors surrounding the disappearance and subsequent removal from police missing person files."

He said his father had resigned from all Decker-owned enterprises. Paul Decker has been named president of the three Omaha concerns — Cornhusker Homes Co., Mockingbird Hills, Inc., and Earthworms, Inc.

Donald Decker left his Omaha home the morning of Jan. 27 en route to his office. He never arrived. A family attorney March 1 asked police to take the name off the missing person's list.

Hall, Mueller Nominees For Top LEA Position

Richard E. Hall, a social studies teacher at Whittier Junior High, and A. Jack Mueller, a social studies teacher at Northeast High School, Thursday were nominated for president-elect of the Lincoln Education Association.

LEA members will vote on a slate of officers April 15-16.

Gunnar Overgaard, a science teacher at Southeast High School, will become president of LEA next year, succeeding J. Richard Nagele. Overgaard was elected last year.

Others nominated for LEA offices were Mrs. Trenna G. Clement of Robin Mickle and Mrs. Helen D. Robbins of Meadow Lane, secretary; Mrs. Eileen C. Buss of Pershing, John Hiza, of Northeast and Robert L. Nielsen of Southeast, treasurer; and Mrs. Madeline Ahlschwede of Morley, Mrs. Ethel M. Bennett of Pershing and Miss Janet K. Mahlman of Meadow Lane, member of the board at-large.

Nominated as delegates to the National Education Association convention were Mrs. Sue Booth of Bethany and Mrs. Gladys Dade of Saratoga, elementary; and Robert L. Johnson of Mickle and Mrs. Mearle Tanner of Pound, secondary.

In other business Thursday the LEA council passed a resolution expressing continuing confidence and support for State Education Commissioner Dr. Floyd Miller.

The council also went on record in opposition to LB1083, which would provide for a constitutional amendment permitting the Legislature to make grants for the benefit of students enrolled in nonpublic schools.

LEA Urges Teachers To Hold 'Cards'

Lincoln teachers will be urged to withhold any action indicating that they will return to the school district next year until April 10, the Lincoln Education Association council decided Thursday.

The council voted to recommend that the LEA membership not sign cards — when they are sent out — indicating that staff members intend to sign a teaching contract for 1969-70. The commitment cards are to be held until April 10, according to the council resolution.

The cards are due in the personnel office April 15 unless an instructor intends to resign.

The withholding of commitment cards until a certain date would be a "gesture of unity," the council was told. Another teacher indicated that the action could be used later, if necessary, as a "show of power."

Stock Exchange Big Board To Be Moved By 1975

New York (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange board of governors Thursday approved a plan to move the Big Board's headquarters to a new location.

The exchange said it will make its first permanent move in more than 100 years to a site five blocks away on a landfill area in the East River. The exchange currently is located at Broad and Wall Streets in the heart of the financial district.

The NYSE said the project will cost an estimated $155 million and is slated for completion by 1975.

AEC Detonates Nuclear Device

Washington (AP) — A low-yield nuclear test — one with a blast force of less than 20,000 tons of TNT — was set off underground Thursday at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site.

The commission gave no other information in announcing the test.

Committee Set To Direct State Water Institute

An executive committee to direct the Nebraska Water Resources Research Institute has been appointed by Dr. Joseph Soshnik, president of the University of Nebraska Lincoln campuses and outstate activities, the university reported.

The committee, composed of faculty members, is charged with establishing the institute's policies, research programs, educational and training programs, and comprehensive research approaches to water resource problems in Nebraska.

Dr. Warren Viessman, director of the institute at the university, will work closely with the executive committee and will serve as an ex-officio member, Dr. Soshnik said.

Members of the committee are: Dr. George Hanna, Richard S. Harnsberger, Deon D. Axthelm, Dr. Alan Booth, Dr. Adam C. Breckenridge, Dr. Donald Edwards, Dr. Glenn Vollmer, and Maurice P. Veatch.

GIRL HELPS STRANGE MAN

Menlo Park, Calif. (UPI) — "Is your mother in?" the stranger asked Robin Lieberman when she answered the door.

"Yes," Robin answered, "but she's sleeping."

"Well, could you bring me her wallet," the man replied.

And with that, 4-year-old Robin obligingly fetched her mother's wallet and turned it over to the stranger, who took $45, handed the wallet back to the smiling child and left.

Robin's mother, Mrs. Adele Lieberman of Menlo Park, notified police of her child's compliance when she awoke from her costly nap.

34% Oil Depletion Allowance Urged

Washington (UPI) — The oil industry defended its $1 billion in annual tax allowances Thursday as necessary to assure plentiful supplies at low prices and one spokesman said more incentives were needed. He advocated a 34% depletion allowance.

But congressional critics charged that the special benefits to the petroleum industry were "unjustifiable tax breaks."

Bob R. Dorsey, president of Gulf Oil Corp., told the House Ways and Means Committee that the $1 billion annually sounds gigantic, but was really only a "modest giant."

"It is less than $5 per citizen — about a penny and a half a day per person to assure us of the energy we need to maintain the highest standard of living the world has ever known," Dorsey said.

Dorsey was one of a dozen oil producers who argued for retention of the 27½% oil depletion allowance and a series of other special allowances enabling the petroleum industry to write off income from tax returns.

Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., D-Ind., testified that the oil depletion allowance was "only one unjustifiable tax break." Others, he said, included rapid writeoffs for oil drilling and depreciation method not allowed other industries.

Harold M. McClure, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, representing some 5,000 producers, said the incentives spur wildcat exploration. Otherwise, he said, the oil industry would have to charge higher prices.

Instead of the 27½% tax writeoff, McClure said, a 34% depletion allowance would have been needed in 1968 to make up for rising prices in the last dozen years.

THE RYATTS

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

La Paz, the seat of Bolivia's government, is 11,910 feet high.

☆ ☆ ☆

George Washington was born Feb. 22, 1732, on his family's plantation overlooking the Potomac River near Wakefield, Va.

☆ ☆ ☆

Raccoons will eat almost anything, but their favorite food includes frogs, crayfish, crabs, oysters, insects or berries, with green corn a special treat.

The first Washington, D.C., telephone directory was issued in 1878 with 188 subscribers listed.

☆ ☆ ☆

Between 7,000 and 20,000 self-proclaimed witches — a word that applies to both male and female practitioners — are believed active in Britain. Many belong to covens, a basic unit of 13 sorcerers.

☆ ☆ ☆

Residents of Iceland are descendants of the Norsemen who settled the island in the 9th century.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A X Y D L B A A X R
to L O N G F E L L O W

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
